House Group Votes Cut in Foreign Aid

$400 Million Under Amount In Authorization Measure

Washington — President Eisenhower signed today the $3,556,200,000 foreign aid authorization. At the same time, a house committee recommended that actual appropriations be cut nearly $400 million below that figure.

In separate actions, the house appropriations committee: 1. Sent to the house a bill calling for $3,186,500,000 in foreign aid money combined with appropriations for certain other activities such as the intergovernmental committee for European migration.

Haiti Fires New Envoy to Japan As Alleged Traitor

Washington — The Haitian embassy said today Haiti's ambassador-designate to Japan has been "fired from his assignment because of charges of treason."

Haitian Ambassador Ernest Bonhomme issued this statement:

"Upon instructions from the minister of foreign affairs of Haiti, Mr. Louis Mars, I have to announce that Haitian Sen. Jean David, who was ambassador-designate of Haiti to Japan, has been fired from his assignment. The minister has placed against him charges of high treason, and says that because the senator is guilty of treason, the appointment has been withdrawn."

Bonhomme said David has been in New York about three weeks, en route to his post in Tokyo.

Surtax, Building Big Bars to Session End

Man Sought in Stock Fraud Held in Brazil

Rio de Janeiro Police Take Steps To Expel Birrell

Rio de Janeiro — Police said today they are starting legal steps at once to expel Lowell M. Birrell from Brazil. The 52-year-old U.S. attorney is wanted in New York on an indictment alleging a $14 million stock fraud. Birrell was arrested last night in the fashionable Copacabana beach area. Police accused him of entering Brazil with false documents. They said he had one Canadian and two U.S. passports.

Could Be Expelled

Birrell cannot be extradited from Brazil on the New York indictment because the United States and Brazil have no extradition treaty—a situation that has made this country a favorite haven for North Americans accused of crimes. The usual police procedure for expelling undesirables is to charge them with a local crime. The U.S. embassy may then mark the passport of an American citizen good only for return to the United States. Malcolm P. Hallam, U.S. consul here, said he met Birrell when the attorney registered at the embassy here in April, 1958.

The president, in a letter to the committee today, requested that $500 million of that amount be made available immediately for advance planning purposes, with the understanding the money would not be spent until next year.

Actual Funds Voted Congress handles foreign aid in two stages. First, there is an authorization bill which in effect sets ceilings on amounts that may be used for various purposes.

Then, acting under these ceilings, it considers a second bill carrying actual funds. The amount of money actually provided usually falls short of the amount authorized.

The appropriation bill sent to the house today was drafted under the $3,556,200,000 new foreign aid authorization plus certain permanent authorizations. These permanent authorizations include $12,200,000 for the intergovernmental committee for European migration, $8,395,000 for state department administrative expenses in relation to foreign aid, and $100,000 for the NATO parliamentary congress.

In sum total, the committee's recommended appropriation of $3,186,500,000 was under aggregate authorizations of $3,576,693,000.

The bill represented a total $390,195,000 below the total authorizations.

Mother, 3 Children Die in Fire Tragedy

Macedon Center, N.Y. — Three children and their mother died in a fire last night, the same day they arrived to start a vacation here. The father was critically burned saving one of his daughters as flames engulfed a 2-story frame house at which they were visiting. Three other persons fled to safety. The dead were Mrs. Gladys Phillips, 32; and her children, David Lee, 7, Reed Matthews, 3, and Helen, 22 months.

Nelson Against Adjournment Until Legislature Has Voted On 2 of His Major Proposals

Madison — Recess of the 1959 legislature hinges on two important pieces still to be fitted into the legislative jigsaw puzzle.

They are enactment of a surtax on personal income and passage of some form of building program for the first year of the biennium.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson made it clear Thursday he doesn't want the lawmakers to go home until they've acted on the building issue and a surtax that will pay for it.

Compromise Offer

In a compromise proposal offered to senate Republican leaders, Nelson put a 25 percent tag on the surtax and said in effect he'd agree to a new building outlay in the neighborhood of the $5,800,000 proposed in a GOP substitute to his first-year 20 million dollar plan.

Ready to Recess

Nelson's building program, pegged to the now dead withholding tax proposition, has been tabled in the senate presumably until the fall session. The legislature hopes to recess this weekend and resume its activities about mid-October.

Nelson's proposal moves a pending legislation into wait 'til later category and is expected by most observers to be the suggestion that will get the legislature out of Madison for the rest of the summer.

Nelson reportedly told Democratic leaders he's ready to take what he can get from the party-split legislature.

Travis said he expected to get the GOP answer to Nelson's overture today. "I can't say if they'll accept it," he said, "but I think they will."

Stiffer Labor Bill Sought in House Drive

Bipartisan Move For Substitute Control Measure

Washington — A bipartisan drive was launched in the house today reportedly with administration approval, to substitute a stiffer measure for the labor control bill approved yesterday by the house labor committee.

A Democrat and a Republican—Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga.) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.)—presented what they termed a moderate but effective substitute bill "generally in line with the proposals of President Eisenhower and Sec. of Labor Mitchell."

The labor committee, by a bare 16-14 majority, yesterday approved a compromise measure which no one apparently liked.

In response to questions, Griffin said he had worked with staff members from the White House and the office of the secretary of labor in drafting the new measure.

Principal Provisions

In its principal features, the Landrum-Griffin substitute would:

1. Re-establish the labor "bill of rights" contained in the senate-passed bill, and restore criminal enforcement of its provisions. The house bill eliminated criminal penalties and substituted civil injunctions to halt abuses of union members' rights.
2. Take all unions, regardless of size, subject to requirements for reporting union finances. The house bill exempts unions of less than 200 members.
3. Stiffen the committee bill's ban against coercive or extortionate picketing.
4. Outlaw secondary boycotts and ban "hot cargo" agreements.
5. Authorize the states to handle labor dispute cases which have been turned down by the national labor relations board.

Missing Girl, Found in Chicago, Says She Was Kidnaped by 2 Men

Chicago — A young New Jersey socialite, missing since Wednesday, turned up in a Chicago lake front park today and told police she had been kidnaped in Newark, terrorized two days and dumped by two toughs.

Miss Jacqueline Gay Hart, 21-year-old daughter of an executive vice president of Colgate-Palmolive company, ran sobbing to a parked police car and cried: "Where am I, where am I?"

Police Jack Blakeslee told her where she was and Miss Hart cried, "My name is Gay Hart. I want to call my dad in New Jersey." Another startled policeman, James Meskell, joined Blakeslee.

Shoved Into Car

Taken to the city detective bureau, the distraught young woman—her arms bruised—gave a rambling, sometimes incoherent account of the two days since she bade farewell to her fiancé, 25-year-old Stanley Gaines, at the airport in Newark and vanished.

Miss Hart, her blonde hair disheveled, told police a man shoved her into a car at the Newark airport just as she was about to enter her own auto after leaving Gaines, of Fayetteville, W.Va.

The young woman, who had planned to marry Gaines Aug. 29, said she had been fed a diet of candy bars throughout the two days of travel and terror. A second man was in the car where she was thrown, gagged, bound blindfolded and covered with a blanket.

Whenever she moved, Miss Hart said, one of the men kicked her sharply in the sides.

At times she heard what sounded like coins dropping into automatic toll road gates, she said.

Miss Hart said the pair drove almost continuously until sometime yesterday when

American Says Failure At Geneva Would be Great Blow to Peace

Moscow — (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev face to face today, in a rough and tumble public debate, it would "be a great blow to peace" if the Geneva conference were allowed to fail.

Nixon traded barbed comments with the Soviet leader while escorting him through the American exhibition in Moscow's Sokolniki park.

At one point, Khrushchev accused Nixon indignantly of threatening him. Nixon denied this, but said: "I don't believe the cause of peace is helped by your reiterating the point you just made — that you have more strength than we have, because that is a threat, too."

Arson Cause Of $25,000 Fire

Waupaca Fire Chief Says Fuel Pumped Into Garage, Ignited

Waupaca — Arson was the cause of a $25,000 fire about 2:45 a.m. today at the Dush-ek Trucking company garage on Columbia street, according to Fire Chief Harold Schroeder.

The blaze in the 50 by 60-foot garage, owned by Harold Dush-ek, evidently was started when 35 gallons of gasoline were pumped on the garage floor and ignited.

Gasoline Pump

A gasoline pump in front of the steel-walled building showed 35.2 gallons pumped. The hose was wedged under a front overhead door, with the nozzle inside.

Deputy State Fire Marshal John Hassler, Wausau, said the fire was "undoubtedly a case of arson."

Firemen were called by Mrs. Charles Booth, a neighbor. Before firemen arrived, area residents heard an explosion which scattered flaming debris to all corners of the garage. It also moved the entire rear wall about a 1 1/2 feet from its concrete foundation.

Exterior damage included buckling of the northeast cor-

Castro to Play Baseball to Help Agrarian Reform

Havana — Fidel Castro goes out to play baseball tonight in support of his agrarian reform program.

Beard, olive drab uniform, military boots and all, Castro is scheduled to pitch at least part of a 5-inning contest between his soldiers and his police. Proceeds from the game go to the agrarian fund, which is to help peasants get started on the lands Castro seizes from big owners and gives to the landless.

The revolutionary chief, one-time college hurler of little success, will be opposed by one of his top lieutenants, Army Chief Camillo de Cienfuegos. Both are right-hand-price cut in his offer of a truce deal on Berlin. They were under pressure from Britain to salvage a summit conference if possible from the wobbling Big Four foreign ministers conference. They met at the villa of Sec. of State Christian A. Herter.

They will also "decide" whether or not their revolutionary leader resumes the post as Cuba's premier. The peasants' decision is certain to be unanimously affirmative.

Continue Secret Talks in Geneva

Geneva — The western foreign ministers went into secret session with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today to bargain for a price cut in his offer of a truce deal on Berlin. They were under pressure from Britain to salvage a summit conference if possible from the wobbling Big Four foreign ministers conference. They met at the villa of Sec. of State Christian A. Herter.

2 Policemen Wounded In Duel With Robbers

Pittsburgh — Doctors kept a close watch today on two policemen who were seriously wounded in a gun duel with a pair of cornered bank robbers.

Pittsburgh Patrolmen Anthony Paga, 30, and Robert W. Thompson, 26, were shot yesterday in the city's west end section shortly after the bank holdup.

Both underwent surgery last night. Paga was reported critical with a back wound, and Thompson serious with an abdominal wound.

One of the bandits, Joseph Gaito, 29, of Pittsburgh, surrendered after being wounded in the hip. He was hospitalized but not in serious condition. His companion, Eddie Kern, 50, also of Pittsburgh, gave up shortly after Gaito. He was not hurt.

The pair, their faces dabbed with charcoal, got $27,000 at the suburban Hays branch of the Peoples First National Bank & Trust company.

State Assembly Approves $17 Million School Aid Bill

Proposal Passes 95-2, Democrat Says Measure Lets Government Pay 25 Per Cent of Cost Total

Madison —(AP)— The assembly Thursday gave an unexpected but overwhelming approval to a $17 million school aid bill, including an extra $5 million tagged on by senate Republicans.

Gov. Nelson originally had sought $12 million for school aid, but action on the proposal last week in the GOP-controlled senate boosted the final total to $17 million.

Backs Down

The 95-2 approving vote by the Democratic-controlled assembly indicated the governor has receded from his original stand and probably will sign the amended version.

Republican attempts to boost the school aid appropriation during initial assembly action on the bill were defeated. The $17 million will be in addition to about $7 million carried in the budget to cover distribution under present formulas.

25 Per Cent

Assemblyman Fred Riser of Madison, Democratic co-chairman of the joint finance committee, said the aid measure would enable the state to pay about 25 per cent of the state's public elementary and high schools' operating costs.

The aid formula would be changed to permit distribution on an enrollment basis rather than the present average daily attendance. This would prevent aid payment reductions due to absenteeism resulting from such things as flu epidemics or snowblocked roads.

Federal Aid

The assembly okayed a bill that will permit the state to obtain $1,900,000 a year in federal funds under the National Defense Education act. The bill will provide $50,000 in matching funds to make the state eligible for the federal money.

Annual minimum teacher salaries would be increased under another Assembly bill that was passed. School districts would be required to pay the base pay in order to receive state school aids.

The measure hikes the minimum for teachers with two years of professional training from $1,800 to $2,400; those with three years from $2,000 to $3,000, and those with a college degree from $2,600 to $4,000.

Morhouse Says Rockefeller May Try Presidency

Albany, N.Y. — (AP)— State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse is telling influential Republicans in other states Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller may declare for the presidency next winter.

Morhouse has been passing the word among party "pros" that Rockefeller will enter the race if he believes he has "a fighting chance" to gain the GOP nomination.

Several days ago, the governor indicated he might throw his hat into the ring under certain circumstances. But he did not say what the conditions might be.

Morhouse and others in New York's GOP high command are now actively but quietly reconnoitering the situation on Rockefeller's behalf.

Already they have moved to nail down the home-state delegation to next year's presidential convention.

Early this month Morhouse obtained secret pledges of support from key leaders across the state. These pledges were sought as a vital first step in what eventually may become a Rockefeller-for-president drive.

The reasoning was that, before venturing into other states, the Rockefeller forces should post a "no trespassing" sign here to discourage supporters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Auto Runs Over Its Owner Twice

Houston, Texas —(AP)— George U. Lansdowne died yesterday when his own auto ran over him four times.

Patrolman J. B. Calloway said Lansdowne, 81-year-old head of a farm implement firm here was thrown from his car in a 2-car collision.

After the wreck, the Lansdowne car began moving in a circle and ran over the prone figure of its owner four times before an unidentified man stopped it.

The driver of the other auto, Mrs. Betty Ann Sud, 25, escaped injury.

Legislative Proposal Increases State Road Right-of-Way Pay

Senate Passes Bill Unanimously After Approving Five Changes

Madison —(AP)— A proposed new Wisconsin eminent domain law, designed to liberalize highway right-of-way payments, was passed unanimously by the state senate Thursday after five new amendments were added.

The bill, the result of a 2-year study by a special legislative committee appointed by former Gov. Vernon Thornson, now returns to the assembly where favorable action on the amendments is expected.

Sen. Jess Miller (R-Richland Center), chairman of the senate highway committee, introduced four of the amendments. There was little debate on any of them and all were adopted by voice vote.

One of Miller's changes would make the State Highway commission liable only for direct damages incurred in the acquisition of rentable property.

Another Change

Another amendment would eliminate the 90-day period in which actions for changes in grade could be filed.

An amendment, offered by Sen. Reuben LaFave (R-Oconto), that would permit a landowner to collect damages suffered through partial restrictions placed on a business by road-working crews also was adopted.

Liberalizes Payments In general, the bill liberalizes payments by making such factors as loss of rentals, cost of refinancing, need for property alignment, and damages due to grade changes, valid ground for recovering damages.

Backers of the bill said it would require an additional $5 million dollars a year in highway funds to cover a 25 per cent increase in buying road right-of-ways.

X-Ray Pioneer Has Operation

Chicago —(AP)— Dr. Emil F. Grubbe, 84, pioneer in the use of X-ray to fight cancer, was reported in good condition today after undergoing his 92nd operation for cancer, caused by his overexposure to the rays.

The noted physician was in surgery 3 hours 15 minutes Thursday in Swedish Covenant hospital. Surgeons removed the index and little fingers of his right hand and then cut a cancerous mass the size of a lemon from under his right arm.

Dr. Grubbe had lost his left hand and large portions of his jaw and nose in previous operations.

The cancer was induced by X-ray burns he suffered in 1895 while he was experimenting.

Dr. Grubbe now is generally credited by medical science with being father of X-ray treatments. He was a 20-year-old physicist when he first used an X-ray beam to treat a woman cancer patient in Chicago.

French Open Drive Against Algeria Rebels

Hope to Reduce Stronghold Before UN Begins Debate

Algiers —(AP)— The French army is waging a crucial offensive of the 44 year old Algerian war. All available reserves have been thrown into the massive, forest-covered Grande Kabylie mountains east of Algiers, the strongest bastion of the Moslem nationalist rebellion against French rule in Algeria.

French troops began the assault Wednesday, striking simultaneously from the ground, air and sea. Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme commander in Algeria, is commanding the operation personally.

No Report

So far there has been no word on how the operation is going. But staff officers say the action will continue for many weeks, if not months.

The French general staff believes the future of the Algerian war depends largely on the results of the Kabylie offensive.

The attack comes less than two months before the fall session of the United Nations, which is likely to discuss the Algerian problem. Army sources said the French will make a major effort to smash or considerably reduce rebel military resistance before the debate starts.

Rugged Terrain

An estimated 6,000 armed nationalists are entrenched in the Grande Kabylie zone, a rugged range starting less than 50 miles east of Algiers and continuing for about 150 miles parallel to the coast.

Past French efforts to smash resistance in the area failed. Rebels killed by the French were quickly replaced by conscripts from the impoverished villages clinging to the mountainsides.

The French attempted a major offensive against Kabylie last fall. But the action touched only part of the area and apparently without spectacular success.

Jury Convicts 2 of Strangling Children

San Diego, Calif. — (AP)— A Superior court jury convicted Mrs. Wanda Brogdon, 33, and Archie Merriam, 36, of two counts of first degree murder in the strangling of her two sons.

The jurors deliberated eight hours before reaching the verdicts.

Both defendants maintained the drowsy poses they assumed throughout the trial. Neither moved as the verdicts were read.

Both defense attorneys moved for a new trial. Judge

William P. Mahedy said he would fix the time for argument on the motions before judgment is to be pronounced on the defendants.

Mahedy ordered the jury of six men and six women to return at 10 a. m. Saturday to set the penalty, either death in the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

Mrs. Brogdon and Merriam, her lover, had pleaded innocent of the killing of the boys, David, 3, and Virgil Brogdon, Jr., 5. The couple withdrew earlier pleas of insanity.

Elephant Enjoys Trip Through Alps, Gets Hearty Welcome

St. Jean De Maurienne, France —(AP)— Two-ton Jumbo lumbered into this old Alpine town last night trailing two cars, a truck, one British historian, a mob of small boys, a pack of yelping dogs and an enterprising ice cream vendor.

The whole population of 3,663 turned out to welcome him.

There hasn't been an elephant through these parts since Hannibal and his pack of pachyderms sashayed through in 219 B.C. if they did come through here.

Hearty Welcome

The mayor was on hand to shake the trunk of the visiting celebrity. A band played. Jumbo responded with a mighty trumpet that sounded like elephantese for "my feet hurt" and rolled over in the village square.

Prodded by his trainer, Jumbo rumbled over to the village fountain for a bath. The fountain had been specially scrubbed out for the visitor, who showed his appreciation by squirting water on a few of the townspeople.

Big Meal

After an elephant-sized meal of a couple of bales of hay, Jumbo sacked out in the best stable in the area for a good night's rest before starting out today on the fifth leg of his epic journey over the Alps.

His historian companion, Prof. John Hoyte, contends that when Hannibal led his Carthaginian legions over the Alps to invade ancient Italy, they brought their elephants over the 7,300-foot Clapier pass. Most other historians think such a trek would be too much for elephants and say Hannibal used lower routes closer to the Mediterranean.

Hoyte borrowed Jumbo from the Turin zoo and started out Monday on the high road to prove he's right.

See Delay in House Action On GI Bill

Democrat Says Lawmakers May Wait Until 1960

Washington —(AP)— The GI bill for peacetime veterans, passed Tuesday by the senate, may have to wait until next year for house consideration.

The chairman of the house veterans affairs committee, Rep. Olin Teague (D-Texas) said today that he opposes its passage now.

Plans Hearings

To get house approval, Teague said his committee would have to hold hearings on the legislation. He added: "I don't propose to hold hearings this year. I don't want to be a party to sending a GI bill to the White House which is almost certain to be vetoed by the president."

Teague said the proposal should be held over until next year when he said political consideration will make a veto less likely. Next year is a presidential election year.

Might Interfere

The bill, if passed now, Teague said, might also interfere with White House acceptance of a major overhaul of the veterans' pension program. The pension bill has already passed the house and is scheduled for consideration by the senate next week.

The GI bill as passed by the senate would provide two major benefits to men who entered military service after Jan. 31, 1955, or will be entering service before July 1, 1963. They are:

Two Items

1. An education and training program similar to that provided Korean war veterans, except that the government allowances to help pay for the schooling in some cases would be made as interest free loans rather than as cash gifts.
2. A GI loan program similar to those for World War II and Korean Veterans.

Polio Cases Up 50 Per Cent

Washington —(AP)— Paralytic polio cases increased by 50 per cent last week to a 1959 weekly high of 168. They ran more than three times the number listed for the comparable 1958 week.

The public health service today said the states reported a total of 257 polio cases during the week ended July 18.

This compares with a revised total of 178 polio cases for the week ended July 11 this year, 110 of them paralytic.

In the week ended July 19, 1958, there were 52 paralytic cases among 123 polio cases listed. In the comparative 1957 week there were 252 cases, 50 of them paralytic.

Last week's totals were the highest for the 28th week of the year since 1956, when 277 paralytic cases were listed among 529 polio cases reported.

Almost half of last week's paralytic cases occurred in four states: Missouri 20, Texas, 20, Alabama, 15 and Tennessee 12. The Tennessee figure represented a sudden increase, the service said, as the state listed only three paralytic cases in the preceding week.

Texas reported the most polio cases, 34. Next came Missouri with 32 and Iowa with 21.

Eight Unionists Receive Long Prison Terms

Group Convicted of Attempt to Blow Up Struck Mill

Henderson, N. C. —(AP)— Eight members of the Textile Workers Union of America have drawn long prison sentences after their conviction for conspiring to dynamite a struck cotton mill.

The eight included Boyd Payton, 51, Carolinas director of the TWUA who led the long and often violent strike at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills here.

Long Term

Superior Court Judge Raymond Mallard Thursday sentenced Payton to six to 10 years at hard labor.

Mallard said: "I hope all of you gentlemen will some day come to understand that the law is bigger than you, bigger than the union, bigger than any organization. The good people of North Carolina will not tolerate anyone holding themselves above the law."

Hard Labor

Payton's aide, Lawrence Gore, 42, and Charles Auslander, 47, a minor TWUA official, also received six to 10 years at Hard labor.

All eight were convicted on three counts of conspiring to blow up an office building, the boiler room, and a substation feeding power to the south Henderson plant of the mills.

The other defendants and their terms: Warren Walker, 38; Robert Edward Abbott, 21; Calvin Ray Pegram, 22; and Johnny Martin, 57, each received five to 7 year terms; and Malcolm Harrell, 23, received 2 to three years.

McDonald Says Union Seeks Fair Share of Higher Profits

BY NORMAN WALKER
New York — The steel strike, says the man directing the walkout, won't end until companies agree to a fair split of increased profits with their half-million workers.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, thumbed pages of a newspaper to a short inside article saying a small steel firm had netted almost as much profit in six months this year as the company's highest full-year earnings record.

"It's fantastic," said McDonald. "Wait until the big steel companies file their profits reports next week. You'll see. They're going to have to share that money with us."

"It has always happened that way. We intend to see it continues."

McDonald's views were as fixed and unyielding on the union side as were those expressed for the industry earlier to the same interviewer by Chairman Roger Blough of the United States Steel corporation.

Talks with the two men, equally firm in their stands in the titanic labor-management clash that has shut down most of the nation's vast steel industry, pinpointed the issues.

Both Unyielding

The industry is dead set against any new net labor cost increase. The union says the workers deserve — and are going to get — higher pay and companion benefits.

McDonald said the industry is trying to cut its work force, whereas steel employment should be increasing to meet the expanding metal needs of America and countries abroad.

"We are being pictured by the industry as opposing progress and efficiency," McDonald said. "I repeat what I've said: The claim is as phony as a $7 bill. The industry's whole position is based on misrepresentation and distortion of the facts."

The union, said this dapper, well-tailored, prematurely gray union boss, looking for all the world like a top industry executive, has never opposed automation or technical progress.

"As further evidence of the phoniness of industry's arguments, thousands of adjustments in working conditions are made each year by joint agreement in local collective bargaining," McDonald said.

Cost Lower Per Ton

"What the industry desires, however, is to eliminate free collective bargaining in making these adjustments and to substitute unilateral management imposition of its will," McDonald stressed that the steel industry's total labor bill is less now — with considerably more steel production — than it was in years past — some 8 per cent less, per ton of finished steel, than a decade ago.

"And there are thousands upon thousands fewer Steelworkers in the mills today producing more steel and better steel than ever before," he said. "Does that look like featherbedding?"

Aren't the cost cuts due to more efficient machines and production methods rather than to increased worker effort?

"It's the result of both," the union chief insisted. "That's why we only say we deserve our fair share of these huge increases, mental effort increases. This is not to say there doesn't still exist a great deal of physical effort — sweat and hard work."

Hard Workers

"Innumerable improvements have been initiated by the workers," he said. "We are not loafers. We work hard. As partners in the enterprise we have something coming. We intend to get it."

What would be a "fair share?"

McDonald said that is a matter for bargaining. But he noted the union has offered to settle on the same annual increase terms that were the basis for the 1956 three-year agreement with steel firms.

"In not seeking more than that," McDonald said, "we have made a concession and a contribution to curbing economic inflation. We have not tried to hamstring the industry in any fashion."

The living cost escalator feature of the expired steel contracts—something the industry wants eliminated—must be continued in any new agreements, he said.

Escalator Clause

The escalator arrangement bears pay rates partly to the government's living cost index, adjusting them up or down according to living cost changes. The industry says the escalator results in pyramiding inflation.

"The cost-of-living factor has become part of the mores of American labor that the Steelworkers union does not intend to drop," McDonald said.

How long will the steel strike last?

McDonald, who has had to cancel plans to accompany Richard M. Nixon on the vice president's current tour of Russia, said the answer is up to the industry.

"We want our people off the bricks and back at their jobs as soon as possible," he said.

Expect Senate To Confirm PSC Chief

Leonard Bessman Neutral on Electric Company Ownership

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The man who will be the next chairman of the state public service commission, the top regulatory office in the state government, is neutral on the issue of public versus private ownership of electric companies, he told the legislature Thursday.

All signs today pointed to the speedy confirmation by the senate of Leonard Bessman, 51-year-old Milwaukee lawyer and reserve army officer, as head of the 3-member state agency.

Gov. Nelson chose Bessman to replace George Steinmetz, a career civil servant of the commission who has been chairman for the last five years.

Bessman turned up yesterday for a brief examination by a senate committee on labor and management headed by W. F. Trinke of Lake Geneva.

Trinke asked for Bessman's views on the issue of public or private ownership.

Situation Satisfactory

The lawyer replied mildly that most of the power companies of the state are now privately owned, and that he regards that situation as satisfactory. Because of their inherently monopolistic character, he added, public service companies must be regulated in the public interest and he proposes to follow the laws in that regard.

He said he has no "personal preference" on the method of ownership of public utilities.

He explained that immediately after World War II he had spent five and a half years in anti-trust enforcement work for the state attorney general's office.

The subject did not come up at the hearing, but Bessman is described as a voting Democrat in private life. He has not been active in partisan work. He was one of the champions of the nomination of Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the presidency on the Democratic ticket in 1952.

Convict Shiocton Man On 2 of 3 Fish Counts

Cousin Found Guilty on One Charge; Municipal Jury Out Six Hours

A municipal court jury, shortly before midnight Thursday convicted a Shiocton man on two of three fishing law violation charges and his cousin on one of three similar counts.

Roger Van Straten, 33, was fined $200 or 60 days in jail for assault and obstructing a conservation warden in performance of his duties, and $50 or 20 days for unlawful possession of fish traps.

Thomas Van Straten, 21, was fined $50 or 20 days for possession of fish traps.

Third Charge

Both men were acquitted on a third charge of fishing by means other than angling or trolling and Thomas was cleared of the assault charge.

Attorney for the defense, Urban Van Susteren, requested a poll of the jury on each of the guilty verdicts but recalled the motion on the third poll after the first two showed a unanimous stand.

Judge Oscar J. Schmieg denied Van Susteren's request for the court to ask the jurors if they "drew straws or used some similar device" to break deadlock.

The judge said nowhere in his 16 years of experience on the bench could he find where he had been asked to raise such a question. He called it an "imposition on this jury" and asked on what authority the request was made. The attorney said he had no authority. Judge Schmieg denied the request saying "I will not establish such a precedent in this court."

The case went to the jury a few minutes before 5 p. m. Thursday. About 35 persons waited in the courthouse corridors throughout the night and were on hand when the jury filed back about 11:50. The jury returned once to the courtroom in mid-evening to hear several portions of testimony re-read.

Final Witnesses

The final three witnesses for the defense Thursday afternoon were Learned McCready, Shiocton, who drew a diagram of the bayou area where the offenses took place; Andrew J. Mueller, Post-Crescent photographer, who had taken pictures of the scene, and Thomas Van Straten.

Thomas Wirth, Oshkosh, a biologist for the fisheries division of the Wisconsin conservation department, was called as a rebuttal witness for the state.

The cousins were charged after an incident last April 14 on the Wolf river near Shiocton where they and Outagamie County Conservation Warden Charles Wranosky scuffled in the water when Wranosky attempted to arrest them.

Natural Gas Flow From Canada Up for Hearing

If Approval Is Gained, Fox Cities Supply Could be More Than Doubled

Washington — The long-unanswered question of whether Wisconsin is to get Canadian natural gas comes up for another airing next week. But there is no assurance of an early answer.

The Federal Power commission opens a hearing Monday on an application of Midwestern Gas Transmission company to bring natural gas from Canada into Wisconsin at a cost of $52,297,000 for pipeline construction and related facilities.

The company would build 504 miles of main line from the United States - Canadian border near Emerson, Manitoba, to Marshfield, Wis., where it would hook into the line of Michigan - Wisconsin Pipeline company.

(This could mean that if approval of the FPC is gained nearly twice the amount of natural gas now available would then become available in Appleton and the Fox Cities, a Wisconsin - Michigan power company spokesman said.)

It also would mean the Fox Cities area would have a second source of natural gas. Currently the power company is limited to serving a specified number of customers.)

Midwestern has a contract with Trans - Canada Pipe Lines, Ltd., to buy 204 million cubic feet of gas daily. Trans-Canada has stated it is ready to supply this gas. But the Canadian government has not agreed to grant a license for export of the gas.

Main Hitch

And that seems to be the main hitch.

Failure of the Canadian government to give its permission has blocked previous applications by Midwestern to import Canadian gas.

The Federal Power commission on July 16 asked Trans-Canada to be ready to say at next week's hearing whether it still is willing to supply the gas.

Michigan - Wisconsin proposes to spend $24,177,000 in the event it can get the gas from Midwestern. Michigan-Wisconsin would build 97 miles of main line from Marshfield to Appleton and some 65 miles of loop line to increase its present capacity, in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, as well as more than 300 miles of other lines.

The FPC indicated strongly last year it would grant applications by United States firms to import Canadian gas if the Canadian government agreed to let Canadian gas flow into this country.

Mrs. Frank Sommers, 724 E. North street, was taken to St. Elizabeth at 2:30 p. m. Thursday by Lindy's ambulance. She fractured a kneecap when she tripped over a garden hose and fell outside her home.

Constipation can be a constant worry

As many people approach middle age the problem of constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet becomes serious. It is often such a worry that folks seek relief with harsh laxative drugs.

What they do not realize is that such treatment cannot correct the cause of the trouble. But there is a simple, pleasant way that works for millions. It's the Kellogg's All-Bran way.

Kellogg's All-Bran is a whole bran cereal—and bran is nature's best bulk-forming food. Just half a cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk supplies all the good food bulk your system needs each day for dependable, youthful regularity.

Miss Universe Entrants are Judged 3 Ways

BY PATRICK McNulty

Long Beach, Calif. — Each of the 15 finalists in the Miss Universe beauty pageant is going to be divided—like ancient Gaul—into three parts tonight.

At least that's the way she'll be studied by contest judges, who last night cut the field of 34 lovelies to a select 15. The judges look for three things as the girls parade in evening dress and then bathing suits: charm, body, face.

And when the judges put the parts together tonight: presto—Miss Universe.

Finalists are:

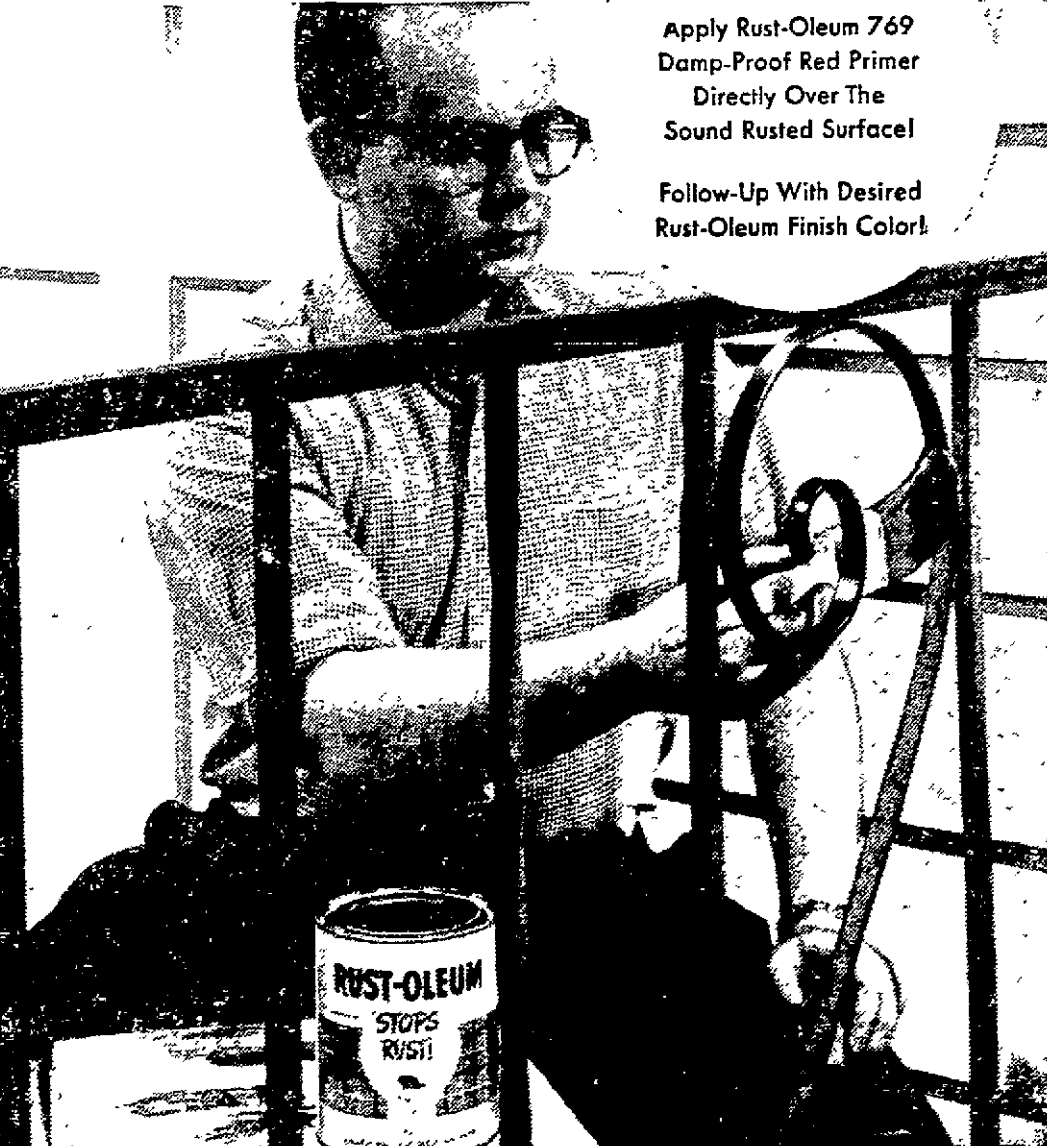

Miss Belgium, Helene Savigny, 24, an aspiring actress; Miss Brazil, Vera Ribeiro, 19, who also wants to be an actress; Miss Colombia, Francee Olga Pumarejo, 20; Miss England, drama student Pamela Anne Searle, 21; Miss France, Francois Saint Laurent, 18.

Miss Germany, Carmela Kunzel, 19, an aspiring teacher; Miss Greece, would-be film star Zoe Koyroky; Iceland's 18-year-old Sigrundur Thorvaldssdottir; Miss Israel, Rina Issacov, 19, a university student from Tel Aviv.

Miss Japan, Okiki Kojima, 22, a leggy fashion model from Tokyo; Miss Korea, Hyun Choo Oh, 19, an aspiring ballerina; Miss Norway, Jorunn Kristiansen, 18, who wants to be a gym teacher; Miss Poland, ballet dancer Zuzanna Cembrowska, 19; Miss Sweden, Marie-Louise Ekstrom, 20, who wants to raise a family; and Miss USA, Terry Lynn Huntington, 19, a UCLA coed.

Traffic Schools are Effective

In addition to or in lieu of other penalties provided for the violation of traffic laws, Wisconsin judges may order the convicted person to attend a traffic school approved by the motor vehicle commissioner.

Such schools may be conducted by the police department of a community, by the sheriff of a county or by any regularly established safety organization.

Any community desiring one can readily comply with the requirements of the safety division of the Motor Vehicle department and secure such a school. In fact the department has found such schools so effective that it is now encouraging their establishment and use as a strong basic answer to the question, "What can we do to stop traffic accidents?"

Many a cleric has felt the frustration of preaching a sermon to the faithful members of his flock which was inspired and should have been heard by the wayward who were far out of earshot when the message was spoken.

The Motor Vehicle department sees a great advantage in its schools since those in attendance are traffic law violators who have appeared in court and were selected by the judge as likely to profit by instruction. The instructor in the traffic school can be certain that he is not wasting his help on careful, well-trained drivers.

James L. Karns, commissioner of the Motor Vehicle department, is now urging that the schools be expanded and stabilized. He points out that this program does not mean that the department is dissatisfied with the present schools. On the contrary he says the present traffic schools were built on the experience in high school driver education classes and the expansion program will draw heavily on the practices being so successfully used in existing traffic schools.

Karns warns that no traffic school should be set up without advance assurance of the full cooperation and participation of the courts. The traffic judge plays a key role in determining which of the violators appearing before him could benefit from the traffic school training. The schools have had some astonishing results. Some of those referred to the school have begun their training with a contemptuous attitude toward driver education, but have changed their attitude as a result of such training. Thus attendance is important and the department says that failure to attend school should draw the same penalty provided for any person failing to comply with other court directives.

In the traffic school the state feels it has discovered something really effective in the important field of accident prevention and is encouraging all communities with the facilities for operating such a school to get into the work.

Politics and Foreign Aid

One can readily sympathize with Rep. Zablocki's inclusion of funds for a children's hospital in Cracow, Poland, in United States foreign aid. It is probably a difficult thing to vote against. And yet in the long run this is simply the pork barrel on an international scale.

Rep. Zablocki and other supporters of the plan have singled out a statue of Stalin in Cracow and indicate that the Poles will think of the Russian contribution merely as the statue, while the Americans will be blessed for their humanitarian gift. Unfortunately the billions of dollars which the United States poured into Russia and the satellite nations during and immediately following World War II had a strange way of coming to the credit of the Reds. A clever pink strategist, while acknowledging the American gift of a hospital, can easily point out that it came about during the communist regime along with some loudly touted benefits from the Soviet Union.

Further than this, however, our foreign aid must be a sound part of our foreign policy. There are millions of people around the world in the need of medical care. There are millions of children starving in China, for instance. The aborigines of Australia have hardly met up with modern medicine at all. If we want to aid some peoples who might be swung to the western cause, what about the citizens of the Indian province of Kerala who are busy trying to throw out their Red government? There are hideous unconquered diseases in Nigeria, Kenya, Viet Nam and Indonesia.

Poland has been singled out by Rep. Zablocki obviously because of the Polish-American vote in his district. Our aid to other countries is on a tenuous enough footing without including a bid for ballots as well.

Adventure Still Lives

It has seemed as if, as man discovers the wonders of the universe and tames them to his use, new ones appear. This has been particularly apparent in the exploration of outer space. But now one author, Bernard Heuvelmans, contends there are still some unusual beings right on earth.

In his book On The Track of Unknown Animals, Mr. Heuvelmans points to the animals fairly recently discovered which mankind a century ago would not have believed possible. The Indian tapir, the Kodiak bear, the pigmy chimp, and giant panda and the Komodo dragon are all recent discoveries. And Mr. Heuvelmans has varying degrees of evidence on some other possible denizens who are really dillies.

In Africa there have been long-time rumors of a pigmy hippo, an elephant who spends most of his time in the water, and a small spotted mountain lion. Natives have also insisted on the truth of eyewitness accounts of a brontosaurus-like creature who dwells in the swamps and bears a striking resemblance both to the sea serpent of Loch Lomond and a bas-relief on the famous Ishtar gate of ancient Babylon.

In South America, skins of giant sloths have been found and explorers are looking for a cousin of the armadillo with a shell 12 feet across. And on the island of Sumatra there is supposed to dwell a small, hairy ape-man which Mr. Heuvelmans speculates is a relative of the aborigines killed off on Ceylon a hundred years ago and a descendant of Pithecanthropus Erectus.

There is good news in these wonders. Not only do they keep alive the spirit of adventure for those who shun space rockets, but the dreaded abominable snowman who is supposed to live in the mountainous regions of Tibet may be something else to plague the conquering Red Chinese armies.

Assured Box Office for 'Anatomy'

This has been an unfortunate month for censors. Now a federal judge in Illinois has ruled that Chicago police overstepped their constitutional authority in denying the showing of Anatomy of a Murder.

The whole matter of prior restraint has not been solved, of course. Chicago's ordinance permits a censor board to view a film in advance of its release in the city and to ban its showing. This is of questionable constitutional privilege since it would seem that a film would have to be shown before the police could move in. But the controversy over Anatomy reveals again the baffling conflict which must face those who naturally wish only the good and true to be shown in a world far from either.

Six women in Chicago, viewing the prior showing of the film, complained that some of the language offended their sensibilities and on that ground the film was declared obscene. Investigation shows that the language was that in a court scene and of a kind used in hundreds of courts in the nation every day in trials or hearings which are open to the public. The terms were mostly medical phrases concerning rape.

The whole matter, both in the book and movie, has been handled in a serious, adult and judicial manner. It should be, since the author is a justice on Michigan's Supreme Court. Perhaps the federal judge's decision was somewhat influenced by this fact. In any case, it is heartening to know that movies dealing seriously with matters of an adult nature can be shown in the United States. Too often our films have been reduced to the inane and the innocuous by the simple refusal to face facts of existence, unfortunate as some of them may be.

Ocean Liners Won't Die Until Slow Luxury Does

From The Baltimore Evening Sun

From time to time in the last 10 years it has been suggested that the day of the big transoceanic ship is fast running out, that the liner's future approaches the vanishing point. Prediction would be rash indeed as we enter, supposedly, the age which, the more fantastically sanguine say, will offer us "space" picnic grounds, weekend excursions to the moon and perhaps 2-week guided tours of the nearer planets.

The fact is, however, that the postwar age has brought us a number of new large luxury ships and all of them seem to be doing quite well during the tourist seasons.

Now Britain has begun to talk about replacing the "Queens," the Elizabeth and Mary. In London it is pointed out that France has projected the building of a fine new liner, that our own country may construct a sister ship of the United States, that Italy expects to add to her passenger fleet. So British shipping, it is contended, will need some handsome fast "shop-window" vessels too. Whether or not the argument is sound, it does appear that neither shipping companies nor the governments which often provide the subsidies for them are yet acting as if the age of travel by swift and elegant oceanic liner is dead and done with.

In times when travel seems to be increasing with every new year even the advent of jet plane service has not discouraged the plans for designing and running handsome new passenger carriers of the kind that once raced for records. No longer do these plans emphasize size and ever greater size, but speed, efficiency and comfort are still considerations of the first order.

There is no disposition to believe that in another decade or two everybody who goes abroad will want to be whisked to his destination in hours. On the contrary, the faith is firm that there will always be enough persons who enjoy luxury on the surface of the seas to make additions to the world's fleets profitable. Indeed Britain's only fear today is that of being left behind in the clamor for passage.

Governor's Tax Study Committee Apparently Can't Meet Time Table

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The state administration's celebrated tax policy investigation is threatening to jump the tracks.

It now develops that the technical staff of the study committee won't be able to produce the data for the consideration of committee members until Aug. 15.

Wyngaard

Since this has been heavily publicized as a "blue-ribbon" investigation, and since the governor's whole fiscal approach has been based upon a plan to submit his own tax program to the legislature on Oct. 15, the time table has obviously been badly disrupted.

A mere 2-month review by this commission of citizens and legislators, however great their aptitude, would be so potentially cursory as to be virtually worthless.

Indeed there must be some doubt that men of the standing of these commission members would lend their names to any significant conclusions based upon such a hasty glance at the factual matter.

WHAT NOW

The situation presents the Nelson administration with a couple of unwelcome alternatives.

Either it must risk its prestige upon a thin and inconclusive document for submission to the fall sitting of the legislature, or it must push the financial policy making decisions to a later point in the year, and very possibly, into a special session of the legislature.

Wisconsin tradition holds that there is a certain peril for a governor in calling a special session of the legislature — save for grave and unforeseen emergencies. The business smacks of faltering and uncertainty.

Yet such a course probably would be preferred over the risk that would be involved in the repudiation of the study idea and the sacrifice of a report that would have the respectful attention of the body politic. The governor's tax decisions will be difficult in the extreme, as he has inferentially admitted many times. He had hoped to be able to lean upon the prestige and the publicity benefits of the commission report. But unless the commission has a respectable time in which to study, reflect and compose its conclusions, its report must be an insult to the community intelligence.

WHY THE DELAY?

The University of Wisconsin professors and others who are charged with preparing the data for the study commission doubtless have good reasons for the tardiness of their work.

But they should not be surprised if there is some curiosity about the matter, nevertheless. They have known for a long time their assignment.

A couple of them who are professionals in this field, indeed, knew on election day last November that they would be called upon. And at least one of them had acted as an advisor to Candidate Nelson during his campaign on this precise subject of a tax study.

The succession of news dispatches from Madison about tax problems and higher tax prospects is not the kind of public impression a politician would willingly create. The impression of uncertainty and delay would also be avoided by the head of a state government who had an eye upon political impressions.

Now the business is likely to continue for several additional months; at least, beyond the original time table.

It is far from a lucky break for a governor and a political party already think-

$400 Pay Sought for School Head

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 24, 1880.

The following resolution was passed by the board of education, to wit:

Resolved by the board of education that we hereby recommend to the common council, pursuant to the provisions of the charter, to fix the salary of the city superintendent at the sum of $400, for the ensuing school year, to wit, on and after July 1, 1880.

Said sum should be in full payment for his services as superintendent, as clerk of the board of education and for taking the school census of the entire city.

We call attention to the fact that in addition to the time occupied in the examination of teachers and attendance upon teachers' institutes and meetings, he is now required to make 261 school visitations during the school year and reports to the state department of public instruction, requiring much time. In view of these facts, we deem $400 per year a low salary for the services rendered.

Stockbuying Increase Might Aid Capitalism

Approximately 12,500,000 Americans own shares in American corporations. This is double the number of seven years ago and there is no indication that the astonishing trend is stopping. It is a grass roots movement, the majority of the stockholders being persons with middle-class incomes.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, calls it "a quiet economic revolution which is reshaping America" and "justifies the confidence of those who believe that America can be a society composed of many millions of private capitalists."

Call it trend or "revolution," the development is encouraging. We are assuming that those entering the stock purchasing field are doing so sensibly, keeping within their means and avoiding get-rich-quick schemes. This appears to be the case. The buyers, by and large, seem to be investors, not amateur speculators.

Rank-and-file stock ownership should serve as a stabilizer for the market by broadening its base. This in itself is beneficial.

But of more far-reaching importance is the effect that mass shareholding can have on public opinion. Newcomers in the field will begin to understand, if they didn't before, that profit is not an evil nor capitalism an ogre. They will realize that Wall Street performs an essential service and is, in fact, an integral part of the private enterprise system.

Such understanding will be for the good. Socialism has been creeping into the American way of life from the start of the new deal. Cradle-to-grave theorists with big public spending ideas have been in the ascendancy. They seem to look up on capitalism as a necessary evil, to be tolerated only until some sort of welfare state can be formally established. We hope the stockbuying "revolution" continues until capitalism is generally recognized as the keystone of American prosperity.

Nothing Is New—Not Even Saucers

From The Oregon Journal

Solomon, king of Israel, is credited with saying, in his later years "... and there is no new thing under the sun."

Comes now Knobby Railback of Moline, Ill., a student of the classics in Rome, who reports that Julius Obsequens, a fourth century Latin poet, wrote of the fore-runner of today's flying saucers. Only the Romans of the fourth century called the object a flying shield, which figures, for the shield was more familiar to them than a saucer, their table equipment not having progressed far enough to include place settings as we know them.

Said Julius the poet: "At sunset a circular object like a shield was seen to sweep across the sky from west to east." Sounds familiar, although it seems to us the most recent stories had the modern flying saucers chasing airplanes in every direction. And in some instances, we recall, the planes attempted to catch up with the flying saucers but were unable to get close enough to get a good look at the celestial phenomena.

There are many who are not inclined to accept Solomon, king of Israel, at his common rating, that he was the wisest man of all. But when we recall what he said about there being no new thing under the sun, perhaps the queen of Sheba's host knew just what he was talking about. Could there have been the equivalent of flying saucers in the days when Solomon and Hiram of Tyre were in league as the world's greatest builders?

Nixon, Khrushchev in Sharp Public Debate

with the most destructive power in the world.

"And this is very important in the present world context. When you sit down at the conference table it cannot be all one way."

Khrushchev flushed red at this. Looking sternly at Nixon he said:

"Who is giving ultimatum?"

Nixon tried to shift the argument saying that the two men should discuss this touchy issue at another time.

But Khrushchev, obviously irritated, would not stop.

"Since you raised it while people are listening why not now?" he demanded. "We know something about politics too."

Khrushchev's entourage applauded the rejoinder as he waved his right finger a few inches from Nixon's face and went on in stern tones:

"You talk about an ultimatum. You put great emphasis on an ultimatum. What do you mean?"

Nixon replied: "I'll be very direct. I am talking about it in the international scene."

At this Khrushchev replied: "It sounds like a great threat. We too are giants. If you want to threaten we will answer threat with threat."

"That is not my point," Nixon said. "Who wants to threaten? I am not threatening. I'll never engage in threats."

Khrushchev replied: "You have been talking about implications. I have not mentioned implications. We also have means at our disposal. Ours are better than yours."

Nixon promised Khrushchev

this portion of the debate would be shown on an American television network uncensored, with simultaneous English translation of the Soviet leader's remarks.

Khrushchev, in answer to a request by Nixon, agreed to allow video tape to be shown on Soviet television. The two men shook hands on the deal.

When the debate started in front of the color television cameras, Nixon was a little slow getting started, fumbling occasionally for words.

About two hours later, when they had debated their way around the fairgrounds, he appeared to be meeting Khrushchev point-for-point, displaying a smile and a sense of humor.

In another area of the fair as they stood on the threshold of a model kitchen in an American home, Nixon and Khrushchev started talking about the relative merits of washing machines and wound up in a sometimes bitter exchange.

Bases Main Point

"Let us not beat around the bush," Khrushchev said. "The main thing is that we want to put an end to bases on foreign lands. This is the main thing. I repeat until that happens we will speak different political languages. The one that is for putting an end to bases on foreign lands is for peace. The one who is against this is for war."

After the spirited exchange at the exhibition grounds, Nixon was Khrushchev's guest at a luncheon in the Kremlin.

Nixon and Khrushchev had met in the Kremlin earlier this morning for the first time since Nixon's arrival yesterday. The atmosphere was warm in contrast to the chilly reception on Nixon's arrival.

In the exchange at the exhibition grounds, Khrushchev said the Soviets had liquidated their foreign bases and had reduced their armies in the quest for peace.

"We have offered to make peace with Germany and eliminate the point of friction in Berlin," he said.

Officers Apology

Nixon stood toe-to-toe with Khrushchev battling back his arguments one by one. At the end Nixon apologized for being "a poor host at the exposition and allowing a ceremonial visit to turn into hot foreign policy discussions."

"My main point is that in today's world," Nixon said, "it is immaterial which of these two great countries at a particular moment has an advantage. Any advantage in the next war is illusory."

Khrushchev apologized for speaking so frankly to Nixon. But Nixon, recalling some of his political campaigns, told their interpreter:

"Tell him I have been insulted by experts."

Photographers and reporters were allowed in for the first part of the morning meeting between Nixon and Khrushchev in the Kremlin. Nixon handed the Soviet premier a letter of greeting from President Eisenhower.

Argue About Press

After the visit the two left at once for a joint inspection of the U. S. exhibition Nixon will open later in the day. There they got into an amiable but firm argument on the press.

Shortly before their arrival, Soviet officials arrived at the exhibition and threw out books they considered objectionable in the American library.

It was not known whether Khrushchev brought up with Nixon the question of U. S. observance of captive nations' week. This had brought an angry outburst from the Soviet premier at a public Polish friendship meeting yesterday as Nixon was arriving.

Fact-Finders Seek Steel Strike Data

Washington —(P)—Squads of government fact-finders concentrated today on steel strike data to provide President Eisenhower with the most exhaustive survey of its kind ever made.

As the strike moved into its 10th day, periodic reports were being sent to the White House by federal experts as soon as they were completed.

The half million striking steelworkers already have lost nearly $100 million in pay.

About $10 million will be added to the wage loss each day the strike continues.

With about 90 per cent of the nation's steelmaking at a standstill, daily production losses were estimated at nearly $43 million. Losses also were mounting in allied fields where an estimated 45,000 workers have been furloughed.

Negro Registrations Up at White Schools

Little Rock, Ark. —(P)—Negro registrations at Little Rock's white high schools, scheduled to reopen on an integrated basis this fall, swelled to 35 today.

Six Negroes signed up at Central High school in the latest wave, increasing to 29 the school's Negro enrollment.

Two more Negroes registered at Hall High, which had three enrollments earlier this week. Tech High had one Negro registrant yesterday.

the car pulled into a driveway. She was pushed up several steps into what she later found to be a bathroom, the young woman said.

About two hours later she heard the young men conversing. "Ed, we're going to get a lot of money out of this," she quoted one.

"We gotta get rid of her, Ed, she's too hot," one was quoted as saying a few minutes later. She reported one of the men then entered her bathroom prison, then said: "My friend is chicken. We gotta get rid of you."

Shoved From Car

Still later — she didn't remember exactly how long — the two men took her in the car once again and drove for about two hours. Miss Hart said she was shoved from the auto by one of the men who snarled:

"Don't turn around or look back. I've got a gun and I'll kill you."

At first she told Lt. Charles Pierson she was tossed into the bathroom "a few hours" after being abducted from the airport in Newark. But after she regained her composure, she related a more coherent account.

She refused medical attention and declined to be examined, pending arrival of her father, Ralph, from the family's Short Hills, N. J., home.

Jewelry Taken

In a broadcast this morning over the Mutual System, Miss Hart said "I am feeling fine now, thank you. And I'm so very happy. I feel much better now than I did a few hours ago. This is all I can say now. I've been through quite an ordeal."

A diamond brooch, her engagement ring from Gaines and "all identification had been taken by the time she wandered into the police car. Police gave her a cup of coffee and two aspirin tablets, and she slept briefly.

Police said bruises across her upper arms could have been caused by her manhandling captors or by the rags which were used to bind her for the 2-day period.

The beautiful subject of a nationwide search by police and FBI agents spoke briefly and sobbingly by telephone with her father, who told Lt. Pierson emphatically, "That's my daughter."

The family made arrangements to fly to Chicago and return the girl to her Short Hills home. A distant relative of her fiancé spoke to her briefly after the father notified him in Chicago that she had been found.

Green Bay Skipper Has Dedicated Crew Aboard Gallant Yawl, 'Dyna'

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

While I do not know the present whereabouts of the captain and the crew of the good yawl, Dyna, I will offer up my paint-spattered dungarees in a wager that wherever they are their principle topic of conversation is what would have happened if . . .

The pretty, swift-flying Dyna out of Green Bay Tuesday morning missed a slice of nautical immortality by fewer than 14 minutes when she came in after the winner, in the classic 333-mile yacht race from Chicago to Mackinac Island. Her time: 61 hours, 14 minutes and one second.

Her skipper, Clayton Ewing, Green Bay, wherever he may be now, surely is saying pretty things about his gallant yawl which, though launched in 1957, promptly made history by winning twice in a row both that classic race and the Detroit-to-Mackinac race.

Acceptable Plum

Second place in the yachting classic is a rather acceptable plum by any standard of measurement and Skipper Ewing's conversational praise on the swift lady is understood, partly on those grounds and partly because he will never, surely, say anything unkind about the Dyna.

The slow time—Saturday to Tuesday—for the running of the race was due to buffeting headwinds which slowed the entire fleet of 73 boats. The race, now 52 years old, is usually run in 40 to 50 hours, though once the fleet was becalmed and the race continued from Saturday to Thursday, a matter of five days.

Ewing has run the race a total of 15 times in three different crafts—the Ben Bow, the Vixen and his latest, the beautiful Dyna named from the Greek word dynamis, meaning "power."

But the power of Dyna lies in the judgment of her skipper and crew as it must in all sailing vessels. Dyna carries a total of 17 sails, each one for a different purpose according to the whim of wind and weather. But she can employ only five sails, or any combination of them at a single time.

Most important job: Choose the precisely correct combination of sails to meet a prevailing situation. How would you do it?

Which's Is Best's?

There's a storm jib's and storm tris'l which are to be used in severe weather. Take your choice—but make it good—on the regular mains'l, the mizzen sail, the numbers one, two and three Genoa jibs (each a different size and a different weight of cloth); there's the general stays'l, a balloon jib, four spinnakers (each a little different in weight and shape) a balloon stays'l, and two mizzen stays'l.

The mains'l weighs about 100 pounds; the spinnaker measures 1,500 square feet. All of the sails are of dacron except the spinnakers, which are nylon.

Now, like other sailing ships, the Dyna has a theoretical maximum speed. This is arrived at, at least on paper, by multiplying the square root of the waterline length of the ship by 1.3. The Dyna, 58 feet overall, has a waterline length of 41 feet so her theoretical speed is 84 knots (91 mph). However, she has achieved a speed of 10 knots.

According to Ewing, a boat rarely sails at maximum efficiency. To achieve that, it is necessary to employ a precise combination of many things—an exact combination of sails, specific placement of weight and manpower on board and many other things.

Hand-Picked Crew

The problem of seeking maximum efficiency is what makes sailing exciting and stimulating. It's a matter of a good ship and superb judgment. Ewing's crew—hand-picked and, he says, "extraordinary," has been sailing together for about 10 years. The main discussion on board—"a continuous one"—is what course to take and what combination of sails to use.

The trick, said Ewing, is to divert the direction and the flow of wind as much as possible in an orderly manner so that as little turbulence as possible is developed. The sails must not capture the wind; it must be caused to move across the sail. Turbulence does not produce power; it dissipates strength in heat.

Every man-jack on board views the race much as a professional team does. There is no evidence of a vacation spirit. The 9-man crew is divided in two, with each segment of it off duty four hours and on duty four hours. It is considered extremely important that off duty hours be spent in slumber.

Helmsman Important

So important are the duties of the helmsman that he must not be long on that duty. His reflexes must be keen and his judgment excellent. On the Dyna, the helmsman is changed every half-hour.

None of the crew drinks on board. Not even a sociable highball is taken during a race, although a liquor cabinet is there and available. The crew and the skipper simply do not wish to pit fuzzy judgment against that of the fine crews in other crafts, any of which might win the coveted cup which goes to the winner of the race.

All Fine Sailors

Each of the crew, and Ewing, too, is a fine sailor. Each—like Ewing—is able to do almost any job which becomes necessary whether it involves a trick of navigation or the splicing of a line frayed by chafing.

Although there are books on board the Dyna, nobody has time to read. "There is

TV Phone Numbers Can Cause Trouble

Special Rings Sound Authentic But Call Nothing

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York —P— When Joe Friday or Brenner or anybody else in a television show gives a telephone number while the plot is unwinding, they are passing dummy digits.

The telephone company has a special list of authentic-sounding numbers but they ring nothing. Broadcasters have learned from experience that the great big audience out there contains people curious enough to put in a call.

Hunting for such items is part of many people's jobs in the television industry. One executive employed by the National Association of Broadcasters says he caught a telephone number in a script—and found it was a New York physician who, if bothered by a batch of casual calls, might have landed on the TV producers.

Names of characters are another area for watching. Occasionally the networks get squawks from annoyed citizens who claim that their names were given to unsavory characters.

Some writers and some editors, says Stockton Helffrich of NBC's continuity acceptance department, use a system of taking common given names and coupling them with a place name—a lot of towns have handles that do nicely as surnames—so that complaints can be handled neatly. And, of course, no one would let a script through where the villain just happened to be named Dwight D. Eisenhower or the dance hall hostess Eleanor Roosevelt.

"We just try to use common sense," says Helffrich. One of the more difficult problems to deal with, however, is the complaints which come in when names of easily identified national origin are used. Recently there has been a lot of TV drama concerning the old prohibition gangster days, and complaints have come in notably from those of Italian descent.

Concerts Under Stars Move to Backyards

Hi-Fi Recordings Feature Top Summer Outdoor Performers

BY HUGH MULLIGAN

Concerts under the stars have become in recent years a leading item on the American vacation agenda.

The musical straw hat circuit, a refinement of the old time band concert in the park, now attracts top orchestras and soloists of the musical world and nightly fills some of the biggest stadiums in the country.

Through the medium of hi fi records, stay-at-home vacationists can stage their own backyard music festivals without venturing off the patio. At the flick of a switch they can hear some of the leading summer stars and orchestras performing programs similar to those put on in the best stadium and bowl concerts.

Columbia's "A Night With Sigmund Romberg" is a good example. Excellently backed by the Percy Faith orchestra, baritone Earl Wrightson, a veteran straw hat troubadour, and soprano Lois Hunt deliver some of the finest duets available today on records. Wrightson's lush, deep voice blending beautifully with Miss Hunt's soaring high notes makes sheer joy of such familiar favorites as "Song of Love," "Over Head the Moon is Beaming" and "Deep in My Heart."

The album includes selections from "Student Prince," "Maytime," "Desert Song," "Blossom Time" and several of Romberg's movie scores, most of them in a dreamy waltz tempo that regrettably has gone out of date and all of them lovely to hear. The mood may be Viennese in origin, but the excellence of the material is a reminder that America led the field in Broadway-type musicals long before the advent of "Oklahoma" and "My Fair Lady."

Famous Title

In fact, the liner notes provide the interesting information that "Desert Song" once had another and now famous title. Its working title in rehearsals and out-of-town try-outs was "My Fair Lady."

The Roger Shaw chorale sings a sweet summer serenade in RCA Victor's "Stephen Foster Songbook," which features an excellent cross section of the immortal composer's creative output. All the old favorites like "Old Black Joe," "Beautiful Dreamer" and "My Old Kentucky Home" are here, along with some of his lesser known works, such as "Way Down in Cairo" and "Dolce Jones."

Included is a delightfully illustrated song book, with words and music arranged for voice and piano by Skitch Henderson.

Experimentation

Summer concerts have always provided a much needed outlet for new or relatively unknown works, a chance for innovation and experimentation. Do-it-yourself vacationists who want to follow the trend will enjoy discovering "Zarzuela," a type of Spanish music that is best described as a combination of light opera and folk music. The Madrid Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Spanish composer F. Moreno Torroba, explores the form in "Zarzuela," an ABC-Paramount album.

The themes of Spanish folk operetta are zestfully melodic—and the titles intriguing: "Water, Candy and Brandy," "Giants and Big Shots," "The Fiesta of the Dove."

At last the theatrical straw hat circuit has come up with an original cast album of its own. Guy Lombardo's production of "Song of Norway," now in its second year at the Jones Beach Marine Theater on Long Island, has been superbly recorded by Columbia with original stars Brenda Lewis and John Rierdon.

Menominee Plan Hits Tribal Snag

Indians Hesitate to Approve State Forest Sale Restrictions

Post-Crescent News Service
Keshena — The Menominees Thursday night postponed final approval of the tribal, and now Wisconsin's, plan for termination of United States supervision on the reservation. The plan includes the creation of a separate county of present Menominee reservation lands and the organization of a tribal corporation to direct lumbering operations, land use and recreational development of the area.

Facing an Aug. 1 termination act deadline, many of the Indians seemed wary and unsure about finally adopting the white man's way of government and his way of doing business.

After three hours of discussion, a resolution to accept state lawmakers' timber lands sale restriction was tabled in a standing vote. The general council will reconvene at 7 p. m. Monday at the Keshena Legion hall to consider further action.

Attending the session were 100 tribal members and several observers, including Martin Mangan, Washington, D. C., program officer of the bureau of Indian affairs.

State Approval
The state senate last Friday and the assembly Wednesday unanimously approved creation of a new Menominee county when termination takes effect by Dec. 31, 1960. But a conditional amendment provides that the Indians can not sell or mortgage any of their more than 200,000 acres of forest lands for the next 30 years without approval of the Wisconsin conservation commission and the governor.

The authors of the amendment, according to Gordon Dickie, a tribal leader, want to protect tribal timber lands from outside speculators and provide a period of adjustment was offered by Senators William F. Trinke, Lake Geneva, Reuben La Fave, Oconto, and Leo P. O'Brien, Green Bay.

Lessers of 2 Evils
Dickie termed the amendment as the lesser of two evils. The tribe and the secretary of the interior are required to approve the Menominee bills as passed by Aug. 1. Otherwise, the federal termination act directs the secretary of the interior to turn tribal assets over to a trustee of his choice. The Menominees then will have little or nothing to say about their future, Dickie indicated.

Dickie's move to adopt the restriction was supported by Mrs. Irene Moore. She objected to having "strings attached to everything," however, and wanted to know, "Don't they think we have the brains to run our own county?" She warned against trusteeship and letting the secretary of the interior decide the Menominees' future. "Our broken treaties show the secretary of the interior has not been fair in the past," she claimed.

Al Dodge, a tribal leader, said the demand by the state for the land sale restrictive covenant in the deed to be turned over to the tribal corporation by the federal government means Indians are not being treated as are other state citizens. One tribal member referred to the restriction as prejudice.

Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton in a telegram to Sen. Trinke a week ago agreed to the state land restriction provided the Menominee general council approves it.

Prefer More Time
Jerome Grignon favored more time to consider final approval of the plan. James G. Frechette, tribal chairman, admitted he wished the Menominees could table and try to renegotiate all the termination planning. "But we just can't do that. We've had to meet all the deadlines. We've had to compromise and just do our best," he said.

Frederic K. Sammon, Milwaukee attorney who presented and directed the tribal plan through the legislature, explained that the forest land sale restriction does not apply to homesites, lake lots, businesses and farms. Individual Menominees will be able to buy or lease land from the tribal corporation.

Idea Is Sound
The 30-year restriction also will not affect sale by Indians of bonds or stocks they will hold as their individual 1/327th shares in Menominee Enterprises, Inc., the tribal corporation, he said. The 4 percent bonds will be redeemable after three years and the stock can be sold after five years. However, the tribal corporation or the Wisconsin investment board will have the first option to purchase them.

Sammon indicated the Menominee plan for the future is workable and sound. He said the plan which was adopted by Menominees last January,

A Loss of $90,000 Was estimated in the fire that destroyed the Stebane Nash garage at Forest Junction early Thursday morning. Fire also struck the garage last Friday and cleaning up operations were underway. Four cars, three used and one new, were destroyed Thursday.

ner walls and roof and both front doors were badly burned. The small office behind the gasoline pump was demolished. About a dozen tires melted and others were damaged. An open-top semi-trailer in the garage had blown-out tires and was seared by the fire.

The loss is covered by insurance.

Six trucks parked adjacent to the building were moved by firemen and onlookers. It took about 90 minutes to control the blaze.

Arson was not suspected until the hose nozzle was found.

Not Records Lost

No records were lost because bookkeeping is done at the Dushke home by a brother, Arthur. He told firemen he had picked up records at the garage about 1 a. m. as he does every night, and saw no evidence of foul play or fire.

Neighbors told Chief Schroeder they saw a car parked across the street from the garage when the fire began. They said the car drove onto the garage weighing scale and left.

Chief Schroeder, Marshal Hassler and Police Chief Fred Rasmussen are investigating.

2 Topsy Drivers Lose Licenses

Woman Forfeits $150; King Man Gets Jail Sentence

One driver has forfeited bond and another received a jail sentence on drunken driving charges. Both will lose their drivers' licenses for one year.

Charlotte A. Hamilton, 46, Bloomington, Ill., forfeited $150 this morning. She was arrested by Appleton police Tuesday after she was involved in an accident. She refused the drunkometer test.

Louis G. Packard, 60, King, was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail when he pleaded guilty before Justice George Whalen in Waupaca Wednesday. He was given a choice of the sentence or a $100 fine and was unable to pay the fine.

Packard was arrested by Waupaca police on W. Fulton street, Waupaca, after a complaint that his pickup truck had crowded another vehicle off the road.

He tested .26 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

6 Persons Caught in Car by Electric Wire

Harrowing Half-Hour Spent As Fire and Smoke Spread

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Six persons, three of them children, spent a harrowing half hour in a burning car on S. Broadway here Thursday afternoon during a severe electrical storm.

The storm caused widespread damage in Green Bay, most of it by lightning.

The automobile in which the six persons were trapped was set afire by a live electrical wire which was severed from a pole near S. Broadway and Third street by a stroke of lightning.

In the car were Mrs. Harry Noyes, her granddaughter, Cathy Noyes, 1; Christine E. Stemle, 4; Steven Steimle, 9; and two Dominican nuns from St. Patrick's convent.

They All Prayed
One of the nuns in the car, which became filled with heavy smoke from the burning tires, said they prayed.

Had they attempted to leave the car they would most likely have been electrocuted. They had been warned also not to touch any metal part of the car.

Their release from the car met a long delay because a Wisconsin Public Service crew was held 20 minutes by a freight train, according to WPS officials.

Fireman Saves Them
When it appeared the situation was becoming desperate because of spreading fire, a fireman, Lt. Frank Dziengel, donned rubber gloves and used a pike pole to push the wire away.

Firemen said if the tires had burned down to the rims, the occupants could have been electrocuted. Public Service, however, said most likely if the tires had burned this far voltage would have increased from a short and a fuse would have been blown.

Lightning also struck and damaged the chimney of the Bellin building. It hit the main chimney of the vocational school, damaging it, breaking skylights and cracking plaster in several third floor rooms.

About $25 damage was caused ed at a 4-family apartment building when it was struck. Main street bridge, opened to let a boat through, had to remain open 30 minutes after lightning struck nearby and caused a power failure.

Fremont Group Opened to All Stockholders

Corporation Plans Publicity Drive To Explain Aims

Fremont — The Fremont Building corporation was set in operation Wednesday evening at the village hall.

The 20 persons present voted to make the newly-organized corporation open to any number of shareholders. With more than 15 shareholders the corporation must register with the Wisconsin state department of securities and needs $500 before it can be approved by the commission.

The Wolf River American Legion post loaned the corporation $1,000 which set it to functioning immediately.

Publicity Drive
A brochure and subscriptions explaining the reasons of formation will be ready in about 10 days. Another meeting will then be held and plans will be made to sell shares of $25 each to individuals in the village and township areas. The non-interest bearing stock would be redeemed as the building is paid off either in periodic payments or sold.

Formed June 3

The corporation was formed June 3, in order to purchase land and build an office for a doctor at an estimated cost of $15,000.

It has six directors. Frank Smith, president; C. H. Peters, vice president; Wilbur Drews, secretary; Henry Kemper, treasurer; and Harold Olson and Irving Bauer, directors.

The corporation is to assist new business or industry in the village.

Bridge Work Slows; Shutdown Possible

Wunderlich to Wait, See Before Ordering Halt to Work Monday

Work on the College avenue high bridge was slowing today as Wunderlich Brothers Construction company prepared for a possible shutdown.

Wunderlich had told the state, city and Wisconsin Michigan Power company that it would shut down today if they did not complete moving power lines now blocking construction.

But welders, crane operators and concrete workers were busy today, finishing jobs that Ora Wunderlich said were "things we planned to do when we had time later."

He said the company would "wait and see" before deciding whether to shut down finally Monday. "The welders will get caught up to the steel work soon," he said, "and then they won't have anything to do."

Won't Cross Line

State engineers talked to Wunderlich today about the situation, brought on because union employees refused to cross Laborers Local 931 picketing of the non-union Wunderlich project. Union employees twice were scheduled to erect a steel tower and transfer Kimberly-Clark corporation high voltage lines to it, skirting the bridge.

Last weekend, Wisconsin Michigan Power company posted notice on its poles that "the lines above you presently carry 34,500 volts of electricity and will continue to carry such voltage," warning all construction workers to stand clear.

105-Foot Tower

Sunday, Hennes Trucking company workmen were to erect a 105-foot tower behind a fence erected to signify separation between the non-union and the union projects. But workers refused to cross the picket line.

Wunderlich sent letters to the state, city and the power company, claiming they would be responsible for financial losses caused by the delay. The power company has refused to accept responsibility and it is expected the city will follow suit.

According to LeRoy Empey,

Males Invited to Housing Congress

For 3 Years Women Have Been Only Participants; Men Now Will Have Chance to Present Views

This year, there'll be some changes made. Three years ago, a group of business men announced plans for a confab between the United States housewife and one of the giants of American industry, home building. The session was called the Women's Housing congress. The ladies were asked by manufacturers, contractors and home builders to give their ideas on the way houses should be designed, built, operated and serviced.

Pop was asked to do nothing but stay at home and mind the kids while his spouse went to Washington to sound off like a congressman during an election campaign. The hosts and guests at the Women's Housing congress agreed everything was fine. Delegates passed out ideas by the carload. The industry soaked up the suggestions, promised new houses, new products — and more Women's Housing congresses.

For three years, Pop read how Mom and the housing people were planning to let him live. Many of the women's suggestions were put into effect. Plans for houses built in line with the desires of the Women's Housing congress were drawn up and sold. It appeared that the ladies would continue indefinitely to dictate how houses should be built and what should go into them. But somebody suddenly discovered that it might be a good idea to cater to the tastes of the man of the house. And so, this year, for the first time, Pop has been invited to attend. The men will not be at the annual parley in Washington merely as a husbands' auxiliary. They will be there on equal status. In fact, this year, the whole thing—to be held Sept. 15-17—will be known as the Family Conference on Housing. Instead of the Women's Housing congress. Husbands and wives from approximately 50 cities throughout the United States will be sent to the capital by the local chapters of the National Association of Home Builders. In Washington they will be the guests of a dozen or more industry organizations who originally formed the Women's Housing Congress, Inc., to sponsor the earlier meetings.

As usual, each industry will submit questions to be discussed, this time by members of both sexes. At the moment, the big problem is—should the couples sit at the same table during the talks or should the males be allowed the freedom of speech they often can enjoy only out of earshot of their wives?

Undesirable Trees Listed In Four Types

Weak or Brittle Wood, Big Root Systems Factors

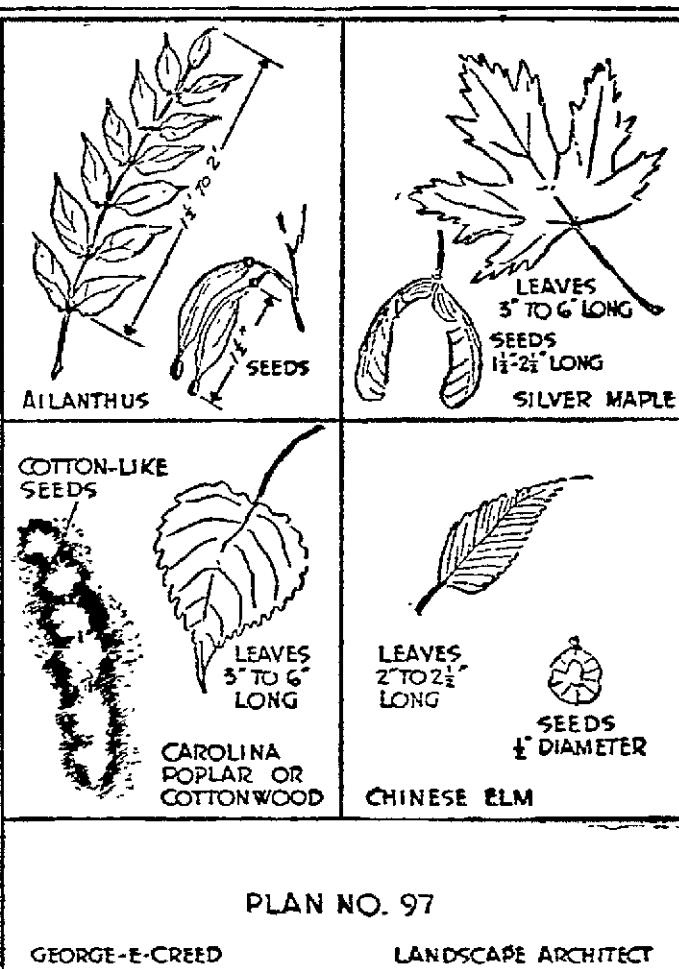

BY GEORGE E. CREED
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you live in a smoke-laden city, or if you have poor soil in your yard and are anxious to grow a tree, one of those illustrated here may be what you are looking for. Each will withstand adverse growing conditions and the allanthurus, or tree of heaven, will grow under almost impossible circumstances. These tough trees may even be found thriving in cinder fills along railroads and in dumps. However, you should avoid choosing them if more desirable ones can be grown.

A few of the undesirable features a tree may have are: Weak or brittle wood, messy seeds or fruits, an over-ambitious root system and foul smelling flowers, fruits or foliage. All of the trees shown grow rapidly and all have weak or brittle wood. This makes them easy prey to wind, ice and snow storms. The loss or impairment of trees by the elements is tragic because full-grown ones cannot be replaced except at excessive cost. The seeds of some trees become a nuisance. The female allanthurus, female poplar and the silver maple are offenders on this score. Their seeds descend in great quantities on lawns, shrub beds and in gardens where they quickly take root. The removal of tree seedlings from such areas means plenty of work for the homeowner.

If you have a tree growing near your house and it has an energetic root system you are probably familiar with the trouble roots can cause when they penetrate and clog drain lines. Removal of roots matted in pipes is expensive. In addition to the allanthurus, silver maple, Carolina poplar and Chinese elm, the willows are also notable for their drain-clogging propensities. Some trees have leaves that are foul-smelling. The allanthurus has foliage that is not only offensive to smell but poisonous as well. The male flower of this tree also has an objectionable odor.

Allow Personality of Home Determine Color

White Makes House Appear Larger; Two Shades Give 'Cut in Half' Appearance

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many letters to this column ask advice about decorating the outside of a home. Typical of these is this query from Columbus, Ohio.

"My husband is going to paint our house on his vacation. It is surrounded by wooded areas, with other homes further down the road. We have a 2-story frame house with a garage 10 feet away. One wants to paint the bottom charcoal gray, with a pink top, or imitation stone bottom and pink top, the other prefers a solid color. We have a lot of shade on both sides of the house and across the road. I thought something bright and cheerful that can be spotted and noticed coming down the road off the main highway might be nice. What is a beautiful combination for a 2-story house?"

The matter of exterior paint color depends to a large degree on (1) the preference of the occupants, (2) other houses in the vicinity, and (3) the location of the house.

Color They Like
If two people can agree on a color that does not clash with neighborhood homes, and the color is not garish, then why not choose the color they like? There should be no rules binding them to colors that they do not like. There are certain observations that shouldn't be overlooked in evaluating color schemes, however. A green house might not be flattering when a house is surrounded by shrubbery unless one was interested in camouflaging it. A house that is one color on top and another color on bottom might look as if it were chopped in half. A solid color house will make a house look larger. A white house will have that effect also, providing the shape is rambling.

It would be fun to have a cheerful color, and that will always appeal to women. I think yellow with white trim makes a beautiful, sunny approach to a home. If I had a home, however, that was very tiny, more on the cozy side, I would paint it white with greenish-black trim. The door could be dark barn red or black.

Tendency To Fade
A pink house is a charming idea, but these require painting more often than other colors and have a tendency to fade. Ditto blue. A charcoal gray house with white trim is another possibility, and these are very chic when the house is all on one level. Colonial style architecture comes off best when the house is in the traditional white with dark shutters (if there are shutters) and shiny brass door knockers and knobs.

Sees Comeback by Multi-Story Units

Scarcity of Good Lots, Reduced Cost Presented as Key Factors

A new look at an old favorite—the multi-story home—is predicted by a home specialist for a leading building materials manufacturer.

Jay Simpson, a supervisor of insulation products, reports that builders are giving 2-story and other multi-story designs renewed consideration after concentrating on 1-story dwellings for the past 20 years.

One of the principal reasons for this revived interest, Simpson says, is the fact that land close to large cities has already been utilized for building and, as a result, acreage in even distant suburban locations is selling for many times its former value.

Cost of Land
"To keep home prices down in the face of rising land costs and other cost increases, at least a partial return to multi-story homes is imminent, Simpson predicts.

Simpson points out that a 2-story home provides approximately the same living area as a 1-story home on about one half the land. Other savings are possible in roof and foundation construction.

"The multi-story home has been an American tradition since pre-revolutionary war times," Simpson adds, "It still offers more living area per dollar than any other design. For the prospective home buyer with a limited budget, a two-story home with an unfinished upstairs may prove especially attractive today because of the availability of low-cost do-it-yourself finishing materials."

To help the multi-story home compete with the sweeping lines of 1-story dwellings, architects are coming up with some design assistance, Simpson also reports.

The use of Ranchline roof shingles with extra-wide tabs will help create a more pronounced horizontal effect, the specialist says. Another technique to modify the "box" look of many 2-story homes is to extend planters for several feet beyond the sides of the house.

Wood-Destroying Beetles Create Havoc Around House

Nearly-Drilled Holes Clue To Presence

2 col mat powder-post beetle
Typical these days is the rush of city dwellers to the country—but one of man's oldest and worst "friends" is doing just the reverse. Wood-destroying beetles—a whole family of them—are moving from the country to the city with homes and other buildings of wood as their targets.

Tiny, neatly-drilled holes in brand-new hardwood floors, in the wooden joists and beams of a house, and even in the wooden parts of a new piece of furniture are all visible trademarks of the pestiferous powder-post beetle (or more accurately, their larvae off-spring) points out Dr. Ralph S. Heal, executive secretary of the National Pest Control association.

Dr. Heal calls attention to the powder-post beetle gang because, he says, an increasing number of people are having programs with these small but troublesome pests.

Long Familiar

Not that powder-post beetles are newcomers. Long familiar to farmers who found them in fence posts, barn timbers and the like, these insects came to town along with the millions of feet of lumber used to build the homes erected in America in the post World War II period. Because of the great demand for housing and other wooden construction, timbers have been poorer in quality than before and sometimes it has not been practical to give flooring proper care during production and warehousing.

There are five groups of these wood-damaging pests. Dr. Heal pointed out, but the lyctus beetle is probably best known because of his fancy for sapwood of the hardwoods so important in home floor construction and furniture manufacture. There are others which get into the wood while it is still "green" in forest or lumber yard and keep at their destructive work two or three years after the wood is brought into a house. Some beetles do their drilling in or near the bark but these are of small importance to home owners.

Dark Brown

Adult lyctus beetles are usually a little less than a quarter of an inch in length, are slender, and dark brown or black in color. The female lays her eggs in the pores of the wood. From them hatch the tiny larvae which start boring. Once established in the wood, they tunnel in every direction chewing the wood to the fine dust.

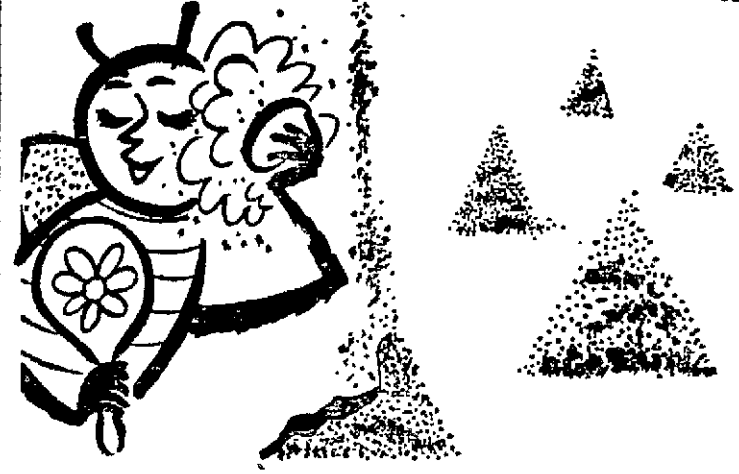

The larvae usually remain in the wood for about a year—there are cases on record where they have stayed as long as 18—and then emerge as adult beetles. While in the wood, they are usually difficult to detect and this is why a perfectly sound piece of flooring, timber or part of furniture may not show their damage until months after put in place.

'Death Watch'

Dr. Heal also pointed out that the powder-post beetle gang has some very noisy members including one wood driller with the fascinating name of "death watch" beetle. It got its grisly name because of the old superstition that the noise it makes by tapping its head in its tunnel foretells the coming of death.

Keeping the powder-post beetle out of wood is relatively easy, Dr. Heal points out, but wood already infested often offers difficult control problems. Almost any finish—paint, varnish, wax or even a coat of oil—will keep them out.

But when they are already in the wood, control presents a difficult problem since any material used must penetrate the wood sufficiently to reach and kill the boring beetle. It is also made difficult because effective control depends in large measure on proper identification and here, Dr. Heal points out, the surest procedure is to call in a professional pest control operator.

Powder-Post Beetles Don't actually powder their noses as the cartoon would indicate but they do make plenty of fine, powder-like sawdust as they drill their way through the timbers, flooring or even the furniture of a home. When the tiny piles of powder appear it is time for effective control measures.

Scale Clogs Pipes

Hard Water May Hurt Appliance Efficiency

Hard water robs the efficiency of automatic clothes washers and dishwashers.

In approximately 85 percent of the country, the water that's supplied to these appliances can actually make them perform less well than the manufacturer intended—and perhaps eventually mean they'll have to be replaced.

Consider softening your hard water, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information bureau recommends, to get best results from machine washing. Modern appliances are built to last a long time, and soft water will help you get your full money's worth from a washer you buy now.

Here's what happens to appliances supplied with only hard water. The same scale you find inside your tea kettle coats parts of the washer that come in contact with hard water. Piping can eventually become so clogged with this scale that it will carry only a trickle into the appliance. The automatic controls can't adapt themselves to this fluctuation in water supply, and the machine needs adjusting. Not only the appliance but perhaps the piping itself will have to be replaced to perform perfectly again.

Adding a water softener to your plumbing supply not only can prevent this eventual destruction but it can add immeasurably to the enjoyment of living in your home. At the time of purchase of a new water-connected appliance—or whenever kitchen or bathroom remodeling is undertaken—adding water softening equipment will mean longer and continually more efficient use from appliances and fixtures. Water softeners can be purchased like any other type of appliances from a dealer, who will recommend the size and type of operation you prefer—manual or completely automatic. They can also be rented from water softening service organizations, who will install and maintain the unit as often as is required to keep it functioning perfectly.

Author's Hatred for Joe McCarthy Blinds Him, Interferes With Justice

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — Richard H. Rovere's book on Joe McCarthy was a disappointment to me because it contained nothing that had not already appeared in the Gargantuan newspaper coverage of the late senator from Wisconsin. I was sometimes astonished at Rovere's insight, but he never permitted historic justice to interfere with his revealed hatred for the man.

As Rovere notes, Joe McCarthy did not organize a movement. He made no attempt to build a following. He did not establish a central office for the development of such a following. He remained regular in his party. Actually, Joe McCarthy sent out fewer mimeographs than most senators do. Rovere had an opportunity to do a thorough study of the man and the phenomenon of McCarthyism, but hatred for both blinded him.

Yet, as a determinist, it should have occurred to him that no manifestation in public affairs occurs unless there is, in the public mind, either a pressing need or a compulsive desire for it.

Inaccurate Account

Rovere mentions me in his book and I am able to judge his journalistic accuracy by the episode:

"A guest in the hotel read (Schine's) pamphlet, was struck by its insights, sought out its author, introducing him to George Sokolsky, who introduced him to Roy Cohn, who introduced him to McCarthy, who hired him. At any rate, somehow or other it happened—he was hired, and as the whole western world was soon to know, Cohn and Schine became great companions."

The record, as given here, is untrue. I did not introduce David Schine to Roy Cohn, because Roy Cohn introduced David Schine to me. And to correct another of Rovere's errors, I introduced Roy Cohn to McCarthy, although several others suggested that he get Cohn as his counsel.

These are small matters, but a careful author would have checked his details with either Roy Cohn or with me. He checked with neither of us.

When Joe McCarthy appeared on the scene, there was already a rising tide of anti-communism. The communists were riding high. Many were in government, in educational institutions, in the press, in industry and particularly in the amusement arts.

Most of them were products of the unpleasant 1930s and had attempted to explain their personal experiences by a philosophy which they did not understand. A few were hard-core Marxists, prepared to do anything, to commit any crime for the world revolution.

Joe was incident. Had Rovere prepared his material, had he given himself to an analysis of the times and the influences surrounding McCarthy, he would have discovered that McCarthy was a colorful incident in an unorganized, spontaneous movement among Americans against communism and communists.

Again, Rovere's hatred for McCarthy blinds him. He makes the man appear as little more than a drunken bumpkin who scares the great in Washington by the noise he makes. Politicians are not scared by a drunk who means nothing and has no real substance. Nor can a man accomplish so much, good or evil as you choose, who is nothing more than a gay, devil-may-care alcoholic. It cannot be done.

Joe McCarthy was a serious-minded politician who, once he understood the nature of the communist conspiracy, undertook the heart-breaking, unpopular task of fighting it. The fight killed him. The disappointments and betrayals killed him. There is much to tell of those days which Rovere does not tell in his book.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I am planning on finishing a room with gypsum board. I have never used this material before. How is it cut?

ANSWER: Score it with a knife—doing the scoring on the good side of the board; that is, the side that will show in the finished operation. Use a straightedge as a guide. Apply enough pressure so that the knife goes through the surface paper. Rest the board on a table or two sawhorses so that the scored line hangs just over the edge. Snap the overhanging part downward, which will cause the board to split along the scored line. However, the paper on the underside of the board will still be attached to the plaster core. It is an easy matter to cut through this paper with the knife. One or both edges of the gypsum board can be smoothed, if desired, with ordinary sandpaper.

QUESTION: I have just finished varnishing a wooden cabinet, which I bought unfinished. A neighbor tells me poles be drilled first, other that, instead of using regular furniture polish, it is better to use olive oil. Is this true?

ANSWER: Oldtimers in the wood finishing field often used a mixture made from equal parts of olive oil and denaturing alcohol. But the application of this formula had to be followed with other finishing steps to remove the oily film that usually was left on the wood. All in all, it was a procedure that called for a certain amount of skill acquired over many years of work as a wood finisher. My advice is to use either a good quality wax or a ready-made furniture polish.

QUESTION: Can you tell me the difference between hard maple and soft maple? They both seem hard to me.

ANSWER: Both are classified as hardwoods, but hard maple is a tougher, stronger wood and is superior in most respects. However, soft maple can be nailed easier. In using nails in hard maple, it is very important that pilot holes be drilled first, otherwise the wood will split easily.

Sports Car Fans Test Driving Skill at Gymkhana Competition

BY SUSAN NOYES

Post-Crescent Society Editor

Darting around a pylon-marked course, a sleek blue Jaguar wove a devious path toward a finish line. Its driver, his face tense with concentration, cornered the final marker and braked the racer as it neared a cluster of red flags at course end.

The scene was repeated many times during a recent summer afternoon at the Fox Valley Sports Car club's gymkhana at Valley Fair Shopping center parking lot.

The race against the clock was a test of driving skill and car performance at 35 mile per hour speed. The course, as in all gymkhanas, favored the smaller racer which maneuvered easily the quick, fast turns around pylons.

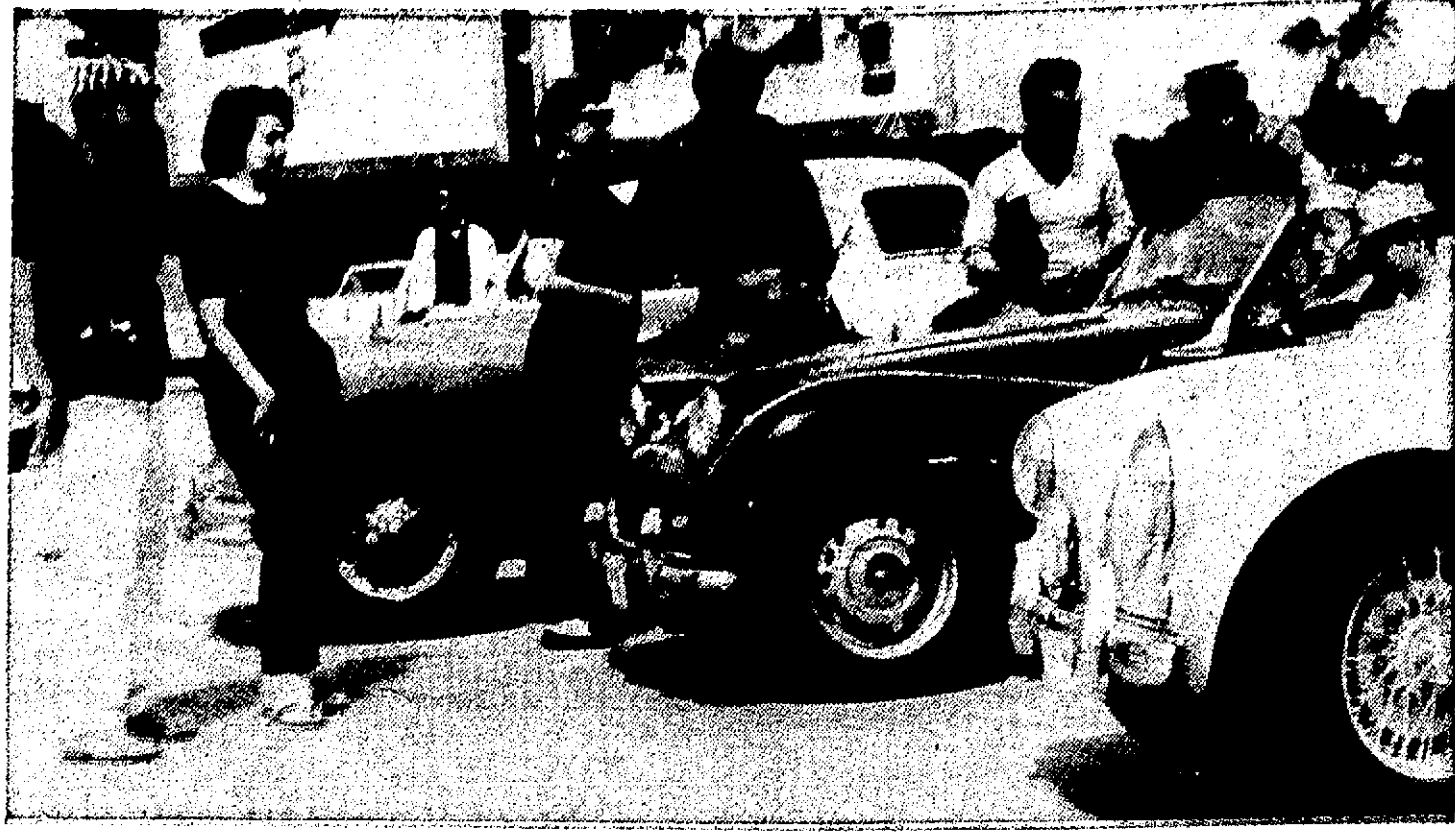

The gymkhana trial, as Douglas Morrissey, Appleton, competition chairman, explained, is a direct descendant of the Hindu gendkhana or indoor competitive game. The Bengal Lancers of northern India developed the idea for their fast riding races in which they picked objects off the ground at high speeds.

Testing their skill in car handling is nothing new to the 70 club members, who take as much pride in their ability as they do in their handsome racers. Since formation of the club last October, they have challenged both in such events as gymkhanas and rallies.

It is at the rallies that the larger models often shine, despite the fact that all competitors must maintain one average speed. Sustained smooth driving is the aim here, plus quickness in deciphering road directions.

Rally entrants face obstacles and possible disqualification at hidden check points. The course is set for an average below the 65-mile hour limit, and if an over-

Hostess Wrong to Open Letter

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine received a letter from a mutual friend while I was at her house, and excusing herself she opened it in my presence. After reading the letter she wanted me to read a part and in order to let me look at it, folded the letter in such a way that I could not read the rest. I think this was very rude myself, and would like to know what you say about it.

Answer: Unless she had reason to think the letter might have some special news which would be interesting to you, she should not have opened it in your presence. But having opened it, she should not only have read the part that she thought of interest to you as she came to it, but have explained further that she had read the letter hoping for some expected news that she was waiting to hear. In the way she did it she plainly proclaimed that the letter contained something she did not wish you to see.

Passing On Stairs
Dear Mrs. Post: There has been some discussion here at home as to whether or not it is wrong to pass anyone on the stairs. The apartment house in which we live has no elevator. We live on the third floor. My wife says it is impolite to pass on the stairs and that one should wait for the other. I have never heard of any such rule and would very much like to have your opinion on this.

Answer: If the stairs are wide enough to pass without danger of jostling, it is not at all impolite to do so.

Including Children

Dear Mrs. Post: How does one include several young children in the family on the same invitation sent to their parents? Should the phrase "And Family" be used?

Answer: Correctly, their names are written under that of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Van Himbergen, of their parents on the inside 436 N. Main street, Kimberly.

The couple plans to be married at 10 a. m. at Holy Name church, Kimberly, on Oct. 24.

Irish Restaurant Owner Likes Gracious Traditions

BY DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

If American living gets any more casual, we all might as well move back to the cave, says redheaded Patricia Murphy, five feet of Irish dynamite with a burning conviction about the importance of gracious traditions.

"Furthermore," says this small but highly charged crusader, "There would be a lot fewer divorces in this country if women would take the trouble to set a decent table."

Miss Murphy feeds a mill of people a year in her can-can restaurant in Yonkers, N. Y., so she knows whereof she speaks. She has little patience with the modern housewife who throws a couple of frankfurters and some canned help plan the building on a paper plate and grounds of her Yonkers town calls it dinner. The great restaurant, the largest in the American enthusiasm for the east, which is set in the midst of a free-and-easy life is all right den, complete with seven on occasion, she concedes, but greenhouses.

Douglas Morrissey Perches on the top of an MGA driven by Thomas Benton, Appleton, as he and his companion, Charles Kunitz, Appleton, left, register for the afternoon competition.

Group Has Luncheon

A card luncheon at Alex's Supper club was held Wednesday noon by the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce auxiliary. Committee members were the Mmes. Gerard Patterson, Robert Wilms, Richard Dertus and Francis Zimmer.

Guests attending were the Mmes. Allan Gray, Kenneth Vock, James Murphy, Dennis Herling, Robert VanderLoop, Ralph Buesing and Don Clement.

Couple Plans to Wed In October In Kimberly

The engagement of Sandie Van Himbergen to David Wyk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nass, 1903 N. Charlotte street, has been announced by her parents. Mr. and Mrs. names are written under that of their parents on the inside 436 N. Main street, Kimberly.

The couple plans to be married at 10 a. m. at Holy Name church, Kimberly, on Oct. 24.

After an afternoon of concentrated driving, club members and guests relaxed at a buffet supper at the Conway hotel. Discussing gymkhana highlights as they help themselves to supper, from left, are Mrs.

Richard Marshall, Oshkosh, Paul Lettau, Appleton, John Eid, Winneconne, Mrs. Douglas Morrissey, Appleton, Leslie Helgeson, Larsen, and Mrs. Russell Spoor, Menasha.

Doctor Claims

'Social Diet' Weight-Watcher Will Lose Pounds, Not Friends

Chicago—You can diet and your friends don't even have to know about it, a New York physician said today.

A "social" diet in which you eat normally with only a few modifications—was described by Dr. Milton Plotz in the current Journal of the American Medical association.

The modifications include the following:

Variety Possible

—Not more than one slice of bread is to be eaten at any meal.

—At breakfast, cereal or one slice of toast—not both—may be eaten.

—Variety can be added to the lean meat, green vegetable routine at dinner by small portions of rice, noodles, cracked wheat, or spaghetti, a small baked potato, or portions of peas or lima beans.

No Gravy

—No gravies are to be added to food.

—Portions of everything should be reduced by about one-quarter, and "seconds" are not to be taken.

—Desserts should consist of one portion of fresh fruit, one ounce of any suitable cheese, or a small slice of angel food cake.

Will Lose

On this routine, almost every cry determined patient will lose weight, Dr. Plotz said.

In 100 successive patients, this routine resulted in a reduction of about 1,400 calories a day, he said, adding, "In many instances, the patient's friends—and sometimes his family—did not know that he was on a diet."

Dr. Plotz noted that the dietary management of obesity "is evolving today in much the same way as that of diabetes some 20 years ago."

Diets cannot be prescribed for a short time, Dr. Plotz said. The dieter must realize that he will have to change his eating habits for a long time—perhaps for life.

The dieter at first may need the help of a drug in suppressing his appetite. When newer eating habits are well established, the supportive medicine can often be withdrawn.

Dr. Plotz is associated with the State university of New York, Medical center at New York, and Kings county and Goldwater Memorial hospitals.

London Competes for Fashion Attention

BY EDDY GILMORE

London—The Japanese obi and the Indian sari figured Thursday in Britain's new clothes for autumn and winter.

The obi is a large ornamental bow with sashes.

The sari is the graceful garb in which Indian and Pakistan women—and some others—artfully drape themselves.

Matti used both ideas in the elegant models he showed on the third and final day of the new style by the Incorporated society of London fashion designers.

Matti's obi is another name for a corselette, slashed to a high waist. It was seen in a cleverly draped blue jersey short evening dress. The bodice was tightly molded and swatched with a panel of fabric draped over the shoulder, suggesting the sari.

It drew complimentary "ohs" and "ahs" from overflow audiences.

London's 12 top designers—who make up the membership of the society—made a strong bid this season to capture some of the fashion attention usually monopolized by Paris, Rome and Florence.

Satins, Roses
There were a large number of satins printed with glowing roses. Another was a black satin embossed with flowers in bright autumn shades.

As with all the presentations, the coats were nearly all straight.

The jackets to suits were longer.

For evening there was a harvest of bright autumn colors.

ors with shades of beige, brown and black for daytime.

Michael came out with an almost classical line and he never spoiled it with any flurry of irritating detail. On the whole, Michael's fabrics were deep, but not gloomy.

In dresses his favorite shape was simple—short sleeves, slightly bloused top and straight skirt.

Michael's skirts were short, in contrast with the slightly longer ones at other houses.

Hats were extremely stylish—and different—at all the showings. An eye-catcher was the deep-brimmed cloche in black and brown with a black patent leather belt slung around the brim. Another was a flower pot in Canadian sable.

Parties Honor Bride-to-be

Miss Donna Lee Grangaard, Oak Park, Ill., has been honored at a series of pre-nuptial parties preceding her Saturday marriage to Harold Davies Stall at Memorial Presbyterian church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Grangaard, 2403 N. Union street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Harold D. Stall, Oak Park, Ill., and the late Mr. Stall.

On Saturday a miscellaneous shower and tea was given by the maid of honor, Miss Jo Ann Buesing, at her home, 221 E. Roosevelt street. Co-hostess was Mrs. Aubrey Fowler of Madison. That evening a cocktail party and buffet supper for both the bride-elect and her fiancé was given at the 2319 N. Union street home of Mrs. B. J. Dittmer.

Hostesses at a luncheon and personal shower Thursday at Riverside Country club were Mrs. Robert Connelly, Mrs. Alex Sauter, Mrs. Robert Watson and Mrs. Milton Schreiner.

Miss Grangaard was also entertained at several parties in Illinois, including a personal shower given by her Chi Omega sorority sisters and a luncheon and shower at which hostesses were her co-workers at Employers Mutual of Wausau.

Several aunts of the bridegroom-to-be are entertained Miss Grangaard at a tea and shower.

Widowed Mother Of 3 Named Nation's Ranking Secretary

Miami Beach, Fla. — The nation's newly selected Secretary of the Year came here with the conviction she didn't have a chance to win that honor.

"I was told I had two strikes against me because I came from New York," said blonde 49-year-old Alicia Cogan. The widowed mother of three grown children was crowned as the country's top secretary Thursday over five other finalists at the fourteenth annual convention of the National Secretaries Assn. Loyalty, Skill

Mrs. Cogan, who says loyalty and thorough knowledge of typing, shorthand and filing are the prime requirements for a good office aide, is secretary to Edgar J. Buttenheim, chairman of the board of the Buttenheim Publishing corporation, New York. She has held the post for 17 years.

Miss Julie Lawler, personal secretary to Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, was runnerup. Third place went to Miss Agnes Brown of Indianapolis, secretary to the president of the American States Insurance company.

Other finalists were Miss Barbara Brett of Riverton, N. J., Miss Louise Dahms of Kankakee, Ill., and Miss Edna Davis of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Solve Problems
The six were selected on the basis of education, experience, appearance and poise. Their final hurdle came when they appeared one by one before three judges and over 1,000 association members to tell how they would solve certain office problems.

Each was asked what qualities she would look for in an assistant, how she would deal with an important member of her firm who kept barging in, invited into the president's office, and what advice she would give a young employee offered a better job with another firm headed by a man of questionable reputation.

Be Feminine
Mrs. Cogan said she would seek loyalty and versatility in choosing an assistant and would "play up my femininity" in gently persuading the intruder to make an appointment before seeing her boss. She said she would tell a young associate not to consider accepting a job which might be morally corrupting.

Man Wanted In 5 Counties Captured

A man wanted in five counties on worthless check charges was captured by Outagamie and Calumet county authorities as he sat in the kitchen of his cottage at Fairy Springs on Lake Winnebago about 10 p.m. Thursday.

Jack Schiedermayer, 30, of 420 Washington street, Neenah, was taken into custody by Sheriff's Lieutenants Jack Zuelzke and Jack Frenz and Calumet county Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky.

Schiedermayer, paroled June 4, from Waupun state prison where he was serving time for assault, theft and armed robbery, is wanted by authorities in Winnebago, Calumet, Outagamie, Waupaca and Shawano counties.

He was taken to the Calumet county jail in Chilton.

Pilot Error Cause Of Plane Accident At DePere Airport

A story in the Post-Crescent Thursday about an accident involving a plane piloted by Dr. Thomas Beno, Green Bay, said a wheel came off causing the mishap in which the plane nosed over and was damaged at Nicolet airport, DePere.

Max Sagunsky, of Sagunsky Flying Service, owner of the plane, said the wheel was broken off when the pilot landed the plane in alfalfa 20 feet from the end of the runway and hit a dead furrow, 10 inches high, three feet from the runway. The plane bounced 30 feet in the air and, lacking a wheel, nosed over.

Sagunsky said the accident was caused not by failure of the plane but by pilot error.

Boehnlein, Miss Anderson and Gould were killed on the way home when the automobile went out of control and hit a tree about one-half mile east of Stockbridge on County Trunk E.

Promoted to head the Army Nurse corps is Lt. Col. Margaret Harper, who has been the assistant chief. She will take command on Sept. 1.

Music Can be Fun, City Band Members Prove

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Playing a musical instrument is a skill from which joy is derived for many years, manufacturers' claim, and judging from the 60-member Appleton City band, their sales point is valid.

John Bronchek, a band member for 35 years, is a case in point. Every summer, since he joined the band in 1924, he has given up four hours weekly to enjoy music and play his trumpet with the gusto of a youngster.

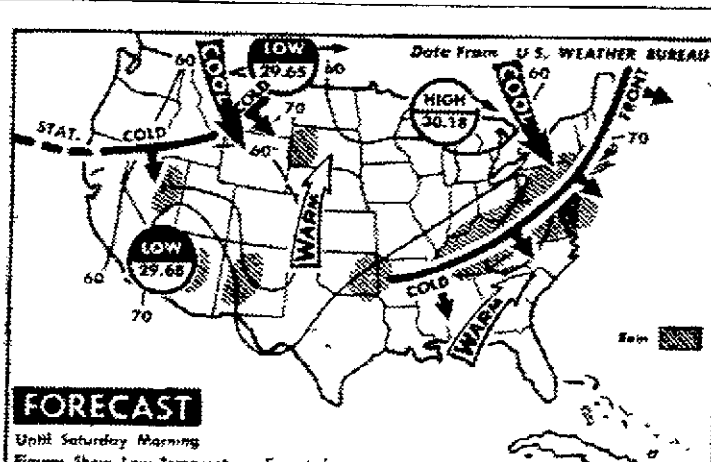

Most members fail to last 35 years behind an instrument. Generally men's bodies let them down before their spirit fails them, it is noted. It's practically impossible to play anything except drums without a full set of teeth, band members laugh.

Many Vocations
Members come from almost every walk of life. George Klein, clarinetist and band president, works in the billing department of Wisconsin Michigan Power company. Matt Chuchel, a Kimberly, Clark corporation machinist, doubles as solo clarinetist, and his son Dennis makes the band a family affair.

Robert Tuckis and son, Bob, play in the band, the elder Tuckis using it as a hobby to get away from his advertising directorship at an Appleton furniture store. His son is a high school student.

At one time, the band was so popular five members of the Glenn Stribe family played simultaneously — Mr. Stribe, three sons and a daughter.

Play for Pleasure
Such devotion to music comes despite a tight schedule. Instrumentalists give up a good deal of time for little reward. Only union members' Creek community hall at 8:15 p.m. Monday.

Scattered Showers are Expected in the mid-Atlantic coast states and through the southern and eastern Ohio valley and Tennessee valley. Weather will be generally cooler in most of the country.

Nice Day, but Rain Hit Some Areas Hard

Ah, but it was a nice day in the Fox Cities.

For the early part of the week sunny skies and warm weather prevailed. But earth-soaking rain of .23 of an inch fell Thursday.

Nearby areas received a deluge of rain. The Hortonville - Mackville area had two inches in two bursts Thursday afternoon. Basements in the homes and the community hall flooded in Hortonville. No damage was reported as dry ground soaked up water immediately. Greenville had three inches of rain Thursday. No damage was reported there.

During the night the high discomfort index which had been hovering in the mid 70's dropped. Skies cleared by midnight.

Today, again, sunny skies were cooler, in the mid 60's, and the D.I. was 66 at 10 a.m. This, the weatherman says, will continue over the weekend. The cooler air also is affecting other parts of the nation.

Dented States
It dented the northern tier of states from the Dakotas into the Great Lakes region. But warm, humid air hung on in most of the country east of the Rockies.

Thunderstorms were scattered throughout the muggy section and dumped heavy rains in portions of the middle others play for the pleasure of it.

The organization started after World War I as the 120th Field Artillery band, and all the members were service connected. Later the band was taken over by the city, subsidized by it and non-soldiers were admitted.

Ed Mumm was one of the first directors. Now the band is directed by Gerald Jensen, conductor since 1949.

Has Enthusiasm
"It's a good band," he says. "It has enthusiasm and we try to exude our enthusiasm in the music we play." He explains that the programs include something for everyone — popular music, the old overtures and well-known band numbers.

Band members would seem to agree that they enjoy their work. Monday night finds them practicing for two hours. Tuesday night, they concertize from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Pierce park band shell.

On occasion, special concerts are given. Tuesday the band plans a joint concert with Sheboygan's Wuerl band, a prize-winning organization directed by Rodney Gibson. On Aug. 19 Appleton City band will return the visit and play a joint concert in Sheboygan.

On Aug. 4 St. Joseph Grade school bands will perform with the city band. They are directed by Francis Scholtz. The concert will be the first the St. Joseph band has played with the City band since it appeared at a national convention in Chicago, winning praise from Catholic music educators.

4-H Leaders Meeting

Record book keeping will be discussed at an Outagamie County 4-H Leaders association meeting at the Black Creek community hall at 8:15 p.m. Monday.

City May Use 25-Year-Old Estate Fund

Edith Fairbanks Legacy Nearly Doubled in Period

An estate willed to the city in 1934 for aiding Appleton's aged residents may be put to use soon.

The welfare and ordinance committee has approved spending $1,121.24 of the Edith C. Fairbanks fund for equipment and improvements for the city home. Purchases would include six dining room chairs, a folding wheel chair, bedside cabinets, six tables, a fan, 10 hospital beds and tiling the second floor.

The purchase requests will be voted on by the city council Aug. 5.

Wanted Home
In April, 1934, Mrs. Edith C. Fairbanks left her entire estate, totaling $5,411.07, for "the erection and maintenance of an old people's home in the city."

By April 1, 1945, the fund had grown to $10,466.35 through interest earnings, but there had been no purchases from the fund because the city already owned and maintained a home for the aged and the will was being contested.

Two heirs of Mrs. Fairbanks contended the funds could be used only for erection and maintenance of a home for the aged.

Charitable Purpose
But the city maintained that Mrs. Fairbanks wanted to benefit the community, and that it was "her general and charitable purpose" to allow the city to use the trust fund in maintaining present city home.

The state supreme court in 1945 concurred in the city's claim and ruled the city should "apply the trust funds for maintenance of its existing home." It added that uses should be limited to erection or maintenance "of such facilities, services and conditions as are appropriate and essential to maintain some part of a home" for elderly people. Since that time, however, only small purchases have been made from the fund, which today totals $10,330.66 — almost twice the amount willed to the city 25 years ago.

2 Contractors Tie on King Infirmary Job

Hoffman Co. One Of Firms Submitting Identical Bids

Madison—State engineering officials were in conference today trying to decide which of two firms will be awarded the general construction contract for the new infirmary building at the state veteran's home at King.

Ralph Culbertson, state chief engineer, said Hoffman, Inc., Appleton, and C. D. Smith, Fond du Lac, submitted identical base bids on the general construction work of $856,000.

There were alternate specifications and contingencies on which the contractors differed slightly, he said. The bids are being reviewed and the low bidder probably will be chosen next week.

highly contagious virus. She is expected to recover.

In the hospital halls stood relatives, friends and players praying that the big, moon-faced man would win this lonely fight.

Worsens Rapidly

Tatum was hospitalized with the virus last Saturday. Since then, his condition worsened rapidly.

Always the center of controversy, Tatum returned to his alma mater here just four years ago. He wanted to rebuild the school into a national football power.

He came from the University of Maryland, where he had built a football dynasty in nine years. His teams there played in three bowl games.

Tonight the same clubs will meet at 8:30 p. m. at Goodland field. Either Earl Furlow (2-2) or Fred Bruckbauer (4-3) will probably be on the mound for the Foxes.

Sinquefield's Ankle Strained, X-Rays Say

X-rays taken of Bennie Sinquefield's right ankle after Thursday night's Fox Cities-Cedar Rapids game revealed no break, according to team physician Dr. Fred Marshall.

Dr. Marshall said this morning that Sinquefield sustained a "moderate strain" and should be able to play in tonight's game. The injured foot of first baseman Jim Johnston is still swollen and his status for tonight is questionable. Johnston, a .303 hitter, has been out of the lineup all week.

quiefeld was carried from the field by teammates after he twisted his right foot crossing first base in the ninth. Sinquefield dropped a bunt down the third base line and beat it out for a hit. As he crossed the bag at first he slipped in the turf and was unable to walk on the foot.

Counted Pair

The 7-run fourth made the count 9-0 as the Braves had counted a pair in the third. Adding insult to injury, the Braves scored four in the fifth before allowing the Foxes a lone tally in the sixth. Cedar Rapids then put on the finishing touches with three in the eighth and a pair in the ninth.

Action in the field was slow and deliberate. The heavy rains saturated the infield and made the outfield tricky. Base running was especially difficult. Although the Foxes didn't have much opportunity to display their talents in this regard, what opportunity they did have may have been costly—losing Sinquefield.

Green Bay — "Produced and directed by Vince Lombardi, with a cast of 60."

Sound strange? It should—but not for long. Lombardi, a man with a penchant for perfection, will make local history by filming Packer practices at the City Stadium drill field.

This innovation, which the Packer head man is sure will be "tremendously valuable," will be inaugurated with Saturday morning's third rookie session.

Said rookies, some of whom were delayed by late plane arrivals, reported Thursday night and were scheduled to hit the practice field for the first time at 10 a. m. today. In all, 38 checked in at the Packers' St. Norbert college headquarters, along with veteran Babe Parilli, Bart Starr, Joe Francis and Lamar McHan, all quarterbacks, tackle Jerry Hellum and center Jim Ringo.

Not New Thing

Practice films are not a new thing with Lombardi. The idea dates back to his days at West Point, he revealed, although it hadn't been done during his five years with the New York Giants.

Vince, who credits Col. Earl "Red" Blaik with originating the practice at Army, said "A number of colleges do it." Some National Football league teams also have adopted the technique, among them

With the title goes the right to enter the state tourney at Milwaukee County stadium next month.

LC-K plays the first game Saturday night. The Paper-makers will clash with dark-horse Manawa, a surprise 3-2 winner over Bonduel in first round action a week ago. The tilt is slated for 7 p. m. A time limit of an hour and a half is set on all games except the championship tilt.

Mathews Lost 'Indefinitely'

Bruised Muscle Between Hip, Ribs Sidelines Slugger

Milwaukee —(P)— Milwaukee slugger Eddie Mathews is lost to the Braves indefinitely because of a bruised muscle between the right hip and ribs.

"It hurts plenty and I can't do a thing," Mathews said Thursday after taking ice pack treatment. "I'll get some heat on it starting Friday and I'm keeping my fingers crossed."

Mathews, a muscleman who leads the National league in homers with 29, was forced to retire in the seventh inning Wednesday night after crashing into the third base barrier chasing a foul. It marked the first time he had missed an inning this year.

Felix Mantilla, a light hitting utility infielder, replaced Mathews at third in Thursday night's 6-2 loss to the Cincinnati Reds. Mantilla failed to reach first in two trips before being lifted for a pinch-hitter.

Wally Roblee, veteran city bowler, crashed a perfect 300 game in open bowling at Hahn's alleys Thursday night.

Bowling with alley operator George Hahn, Roblee pocketed 12 straight strikes. Hahn reported that the last five balls of the game were perfect hits. In the third and fourth frames Roblee got all 10 pins on crossovers. In one frame the seven pin tottered and then fell, keeping the string intact.

A's Win 3rd Straight From Orioles, Detroit Rips Nats

By the Associated Press

Somebody say the New York Yankees still were the team to beat? Great guy for the jokes, that fellow. The Indians left them battered.

It was the Yankees who tumbled the Indians out of first place a week ago, then dumped them to second again Wednesday night when Cleveland blew a 4-0 lead.

But Thursday night the Indians played like contenders again, edging within a half-game of the rain-idled first place Chicago White Sox as "Minnie" Minoso's grand-slam homer triggered a 7-run sixth inning that overhauled a 4-0 Yankee lead and beat the champs, 8-5.

Willie Jones Happy at Third Base With Cincinnati, Swings Hot Bat

Milwaukee—(AP)—Third baseman Willie Jones is happy to have landed a job with the Cincinnati Reds, but the Milwaukee Braves wish he had stayed in the American league.

Jones wound up a 3-game hitting spree in Milwaukee Thursday night by belting a bases-loaded homer with two outs in the eighth inning to boost the Reds to a 6-2 triumph over the Braves.

A veteran of 12 National league campaigns, Jones was shipped to the Cleveland Indians after 47 games with the Philadelphia Phillies this year. But he didn't see much action in the American league and was acquired by Cincinnati earlier this month.

Happy With Reds

"I still don't know why the Phils sent me to Cleveland," Willie said. "But I'm certainly happy to be with Cincinnati. I didn't get to play much with Cleveland—and I just love to play."

Jones, who will be 34 Aug. 16, is proving that he enjoys his new surroundings by wielding a mighty bat and performing brilliantly afield. His play has ousted slugger Frank Thomas from the regular third base job.

Against the Braves, he collected five hits in 11 times at bat, drove in six runs and scored four as the Reds took the series, 2-1.

His grand slam homer off Joey Jay extended his hitting streak to nine games and boosted his average with the Reds to .310 in 19 contests. The home run was his ninth of the season and boosted his grand slam career total to seven.

Avila Errors

Jay was coasting along with a 2-0 lead and had two outs in the fatal eighth when Frank Robinson and Gerry Lynch and Ed Bailey hit home runs to tie the game.

In Thursday's action, Mrs. Clauder, the tournament medalist, was one-under-par for 13 holes in ousting Mrs. Kenneth Houston of Appleton Butte des Morts, 6-5. Mrs. Parcells shot even par and won 10 straight holes in eliminating Mrs. A. W. Bolt, also of Milwaukee, 10 and 8.

Johnson Foe For Pastrano Tonight

Louisville, Ky. —(AP)—Willie Pastrano, who never has been knocked off his feet, takes on Alonzo Johnson tonight in a heavyweight 10-rounder which is a must for both fighters.

The National Boxing association ranks Johnson seventh. The NBA has Pastrano unranked but Ring magazine rates him eighth.

The nimble Pastrano needs to win to remain a contender. Johnson has won 12 in a row and needs the fight to continue his fistic rise.

Johnson, whose home is in Braddock, Pa., has won 17 of 18 fights. Pastrano, of Miami, has a 48-7-5 record.

The fight will be scored on the 5-point per round system. Robinson and Gerry Lynch and Ed Bailey hit home runs to tie the game.

Giants Whip Cards, 5-1

Sanford Pitches SF Win, Dodgers Beat Cubs, 5-3

By The Associated Press

If there's to be a turning point in the tight fight for the National league pennant, it may be at hand—not in the won-lost records or batting averages, but in the injury lists.

For while right-hander Jack Sanford proved himself sound again by pitching first-place San Francisco to a 5-1 victory over St. Louis Thursday, Milwaukee's third place Braves found they will have to do without slugger Ed Mathews indefinitely.

Hurt Sliding

Hodges broke up a scoreless tie with a two-run homer in the fourth, then was injured sliding in the sixth. The big first baseman is batting .293.

Wally Moon also homered for the Dodgers, his seventh, and forced in another run with a bases loaded walk in a 2-run seventh that nailed it for

San Francisco.

Sanford pitched a 5-1 victory over St. Louis Thursday, Milwaukee's third place Braves found they will have to do without slugger Ed Mathews indefinitely.

Miss Sorenson, on the way to her victory, was 29 on the way out and she putted effectively.

An unusual incident occurred in the Fossum-Perrin match. On the short 150-yard eighth hole, Mrs. Fossum had scored a three, then conceded Mrs. Perrin's short putt, also for a three.

But, because Mrs. Fossum tapped Mrs. Perrin's ball into the cup, Mrs. Perrin claimed it to be a two and also claimed, and was given, the point by Mrs. Fossum. Later the rule showed the putt concession to be legal—no birdie for Mrs. Perrin and they halved the hole with threes. But it made no difference, Mrs. Fossum won the match anyway.

Larry Sherry (1-2). The young right-hander singled home the clincher in the seventh for his first major league victory, but needed Don Drysdale's saving relief job after Ernie Banks singled home two runs in the eighth. Moe Drabowsky (4-8) was the loser.

Sanford had the Cardinals blanked until the ninth, walking one, striking out five and allowing nine hits. Wally Shannon's 2-out single broke up the shutout.

The Giants won it in the first inning on Ken Boyer's 2-run error after Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda singled with two out and then pulled off a double steal. Wilmer Mizell (11-5) lost it.

Hodges Injures Leg in Slide, X-Rays Reveal No Fractures

Los Angeles—(AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers probably have lost Gil Hodges for at least a week, but in a way they feel lucky today.

Minutes after the big first year-old Hodges was working as a first baseman in a tied game, when an Associated Press photographer walked into the hospital, the doctor said it looked as though first thing Hodges said was: "Who won?"

The Dodgers had beaten Chicago 5-3, but Manager Walt Alston was more concerned about Hodges than the score.

Hodges expressed great relief at an Ingewood hospital when X-rays failed to show any fractures.

"I thought at first," he said, "that it was broken." But his own condition wasn't the only thing the 35-year-old Hodges was worried about.

Scaffold Erected

To prepare for this venture, a 15-foot scaffold has been erected between the two in the practice fields adjacent to the stadium—in the exact center where Lombardi conducted of the drill area—which will permit the camera to focus on any phase of the operations, as directed.

The Stille company, which annually films all Packer games, also will record the practices. "The pictures will be developed the same night and be ready the next morning," Lombardi pointed out.

Today's opening workouts were to be confined to "calisthenics and wind sprints," according to Lombardi. Saturday's drills will be the last

Bob Schauer, Ken Harrmann, Hank Hupfaut and Tom Vander Linden, along with two fielder's choices and a walk plus an error, settled the issue. Vander Linden's blow was the big noise, driving in two runs.

Oshkosh stirred up a fuss in the last inning, pushing over one run before Hupfaut, who had only five strikeouts in the game, registered two whiffs to end the game.

One Hour Martinizing, held hitless by Harold Boushele, Chieftain Bar hurler, through the first four innings, escaped a whitewashing in the fifth inning with two singles and an infield effort. Boushele finished with a 4-hit effort.

Young Wild

Ron Young, One Hour pitcher, was wild, issuing eight walks over the route with five of the free passes resulting in runs.

Swan Club's extra base punch spelled doom for the Riverside Paper Company's No. 2 squad in the 10-run opening frame.

Bill Hamilton knocked in half of Riverside's markers with a pair of singles, counting one in the first and the other in the third inning.

George Zimmer had the longest clout of the game for the Appleton team with his triple in the 2-run third. Lee Shebiske paced the Riverside offensive with three blows, two going for doubles.

Hank Aaron was walked intentionally to fill the bases. Joe Adcock grounded to short and Bruton was forced at third as a run scored. Lee Mayo then dribbled a single to center for the other run.

The Reds added their final two runs in the ninth after Mel Roach, filling in for Mantilla who had been hit for a pinchhitter in the eighth, misjudged a foul ball.

Green Bay Washed Out in 3-1 Loop, Topeka Tips Soos

By the Associated Press

The Des Moines Demons, who finished a close second to Green Bay in the first-half race, took over second place in the Three-I league Thursday night with their sixth victory in seven games.

Des Moines rallied after a 5-run Lincoln first inning to beat the Chiefs, 11-7. The Demons tallied five in the seventh, with relief pitcher Ed Kelly's single breaking a 5-2 tie. Then Cal Emery socked a 3-run double.

Des Moines is two games behind first-place Green Bay, which was rained out of a game with Burlington.

Pitcher Burt Dziadek belted a bases-loaded home run in the fourth inning to give Topeka a 4-3 triumph over Sioux City. Three walks preceded Dziadek's blow. Horace Garner homered for the Soos.

Cedar Rapids rocked four Fox Cities pitchers for 19 hits in an 18-1 romp.

Senate OKs Boating Act

Bill to Governor; Makes Life Saving Items Mandatory

Madison (AP)—The Wisconsin senate Thursday concurred in three assembly amendments to a proposed state boating act and sent the bill to the governor.

Completion of legislative action on the proposal climaxed a 2-year study by an interim committee charged with the task of revising Wisconsin boat law to bring about a closer conformance with federal statute.

The amendments make life saving equipment for each passenger in a boat mandatory, include sail boats in the state licensing system, and define regulations in connection with boat boarding by law officers.

Sen. William Trinke (R-Lake Geneva), who headed the interim study, explained that an inflated seat cushion would put boat owners with in the law on the life saving amendment. This removed most of the objections to the assembly changes.

Jim Tatum, 46, NC Football Mentor Dies

In 1953 his team was named national champion and Tatum was voted Coach of the Year. "Organization," was Tatum's reply to those who asked him his secret of success. He shone as a recruiter and he was known as a tough taskmaster on the practice field. But above all, he was a top-flight administrator and organizer.

A strong family man, Tatum built a fine home in this college village he loved and embarked on a program of rebuilding North Carolina football. Ironically, he figured this year's team would fulfill his dream.

Tatum first came to the University of North Carolina in 1931 from his home in McColl, S.C. Playing under Carlom Snavely, Tatum was an all-Southern conference player. He was graduated in 1935, followed lived devotedly to North Carolina as director of freshmen athletics, becoming head football coach in 1942.

He entered the navy, served as an assistant to Don Faurot at the Iowa preflight school, and then became coach of the Jacksonville (Fla.) Naval Air station.

He went to Oklahoma in 1946, guiding his team into the Gator Bowl.

Then he moved to Maryland. At Maryland, his teams won 73 games, lost only 15, and played 5 ties. His teams played in the Orange, Sugar and Gator bowls.

to 11-year-old Zuretti "Bebe" McElmore. When "Bebe's" condition grew worse from an appendix ruptured in a sandlot game, he whispered a wish to see Willie.

The parents' telephone call to Seals stadium reached Willie Thursday after San Francisco had downed the St. Louis Cardinals. Willie grabbed a baseball, had his Giant teammates autograph it and was given a police radio car trip to Kaiser Foundation hospital.

The children's ward broke into cheers. "Bebe" fingered the ball and said he was feeling much better. But his roommate, Miles Bennet, 9, complained he didn't feel so good.

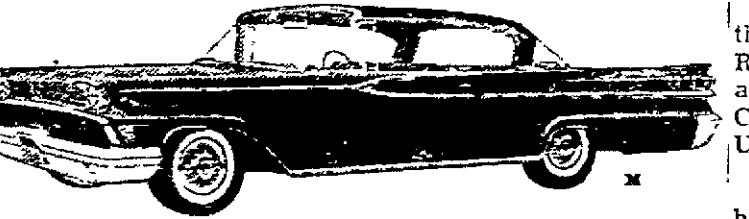

Mays said he'd fix that today with another autographed baseball.

Study Star Route

Twin City Industries Seek Way To Speed Up Airmail Delivery

Neenah — Postmasters of Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, and Appleton are trying to speed airmail service to Twin City industries. Present service is delayed several hours at either Appleton or Oshkosh for train connections.

Postmasters are studying the possibility of establishing a star route to speed airmail delivery between the four cities.

One company indicated it could save as much as 24 hours in serving customers if it could receive its airmail just a few hours earlier. Another mentioned it could receive an airmail order from its San Francisco office and communicate back to that office in less than 24 hours with better local service.

Arrival Times
Airmail arrives at Oshkosh on northbound flights from Chicago at 10:20 a.m. and 12:40 p.m., with the bulk of the later plane. This mail being urged by Ernest R. Sievert, general chairman, to train, so companies are unable to get that mail until about 3:20 p.m.

With a star route bringing mail from Oshkosh to Neenah and Menasha, the airmail would be available to the companies by about 2 p.m.

The flights have considerable airmail for Twin City industries, such as Marathon division of American Can company and Kimberly - Clark.

ploye solicitation chairman last year and worked as a group chairman in industrial solicitations in 1957.

Chairmen are being named and preliminary plans made for conducting the 1959 fund campaign. Funds collected in the fall drive each year are used to support a number of youth, health and welfare agencies in the Twin Cities.

District to Act on Kitchen Renovation

Hanson Declines Reelection to Lakeview Board

Neenah — Renovation of the kitchen will be one of the budget items discussed at the Lakeview joint school district meeting Monday night. The budget hearing will be at 7:30 p.m., the annual business session at 8 p.m. at the school.

Verne Hanson, school district director, has announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the board. The other board member whose term expires is Jack Meyer, district treasurer, who is a candidate for another 3-year term.

Kitchen remodeling will be presented to the district residents for approval or rejection. Renovation of the kitchen is needed if the school is to continue offering a Class A hot lunch program.

Facilities Outgrown
Present kitchen facilities have been outgrown due to the large number of persons taking the program. During the last school year the kitchen served a daily average of 182 pupils.

The school will have 12 full-time teachers for the estimated 265 pupils this fall, requiring a 15 per cent increase for teacher salaries.

During summer months the school has been used for the remedial reading program for service to the east and west coast.

The star route study began with a question by one of the industries as to what could be done to speed up the mail delivery. It wondered if it could send a driver to Oshkosh to pick up its mail, but learned that the mail was pouched for Neenah and Menasha and had to be separated at the post offices here.

A star route to move airmail between the four cities also help outgoing airmail, since it could be put on 4:52 p.m. flights to Chicago and 4:50 p.m. flights to Minneapolis, making better connections for service to the east and west coast.

Oshkosh Teens Pool Talents in Summer Theatrical Production

BY NAN HENNIG
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Oshkosh — Six years ago Oshkosh high school and college age young people organized a summer theatre group to prove teenagers could amuse themselves during the summer and contribute something worthwhile to their community.

Each year the junior thespians — known as Oshkosh Junior Theatre — organize, produce and act in a $2,500 musical show they present to the public the first week in August.

This summer, Junior Theatre is presenting "Kiss Me, Kate" Aug. 5, 6, 7 and 8 at the Grand theatre, where tickets are being sold and reservations accepted beginning Monday. About 200 young people are working to make the show a success — building sets, sewing costumes and hunting down massive geranium plants for the leading lady to hurl across the stage.

Three city blocks along an alley are utilized by the teenagers three or four hours every night for final preparations. "Hey, somebody stir the glue, it's starting to burn," yells a stage crew member on his hands and knees, pounding nails into a flat stretched across the alley.

Alley Operation

The alley in back of the Grand Theatre is lighted with bright stage bulbs and alive with activity as the boys hammer nails, measure and saw, while the girls paint canvas flats and stir glue mixed with 250 pounds of dry paint needed to decorate the 11 sets.

The back door of the First Congregational church in the next block is open and the strains of Cole Porter's songs — "Another Op'nin', Another Show," "Wonderbar" and "I Hate Men" — echo down the alley as the 34-member chorus rehearses its numbers. At the far end of the alley phrases from "The Taming of the Shrew," the play within the musical, are heard as the leads rehearse their parts in the Trinity Episcopal church basement.

The adult directors, Roger Dennis, music; Mr. and Mrs. James M. Alderson, drama; and Mrs. Dorothy Zipprich Morency, music and drama coach, work with David Marshall, student director, and Barbara Brandt, choreographer, at the church. Jean Lewis, summer organist at First Presbyterian church, Neenah, accompanies the singers and eight dancers.

Play Plot

Appearing in leading roles will be Sue Thomson as Lilli, Tom McCain as Fred Graham, Karin Nordstrom as Lois Lane, and Joseph Putzer as Bill Calhoun.

The boy-gets-girl musical describes the Baltimore opera's "Taming of the Shrew" and alternates between Elizabethan jests and 20th century sophistication.

In the basement of the Grand Theatre, the officers of the show confer in their newly painted blue and green office, decorated with posters from previous shows and piled high with "Kiss Me, Kate" publicity material.

Mick McCain, vice president of the organization and show producer, coordinates the various committees and works with the directors. Ann Shulind, recording secretary, is chairman of set construction and painting, while Judy Lohmiller, treasurer, is business manager, assisted by Mrs. Roy Qually, business advisor. President of the group, Fred Steinbrecher, plays a gangster in the show, and Mary Lund, corresponding secretary, handles all production mail.

Set Problems

Above the gaily decorated office more hammering and sawing goes on as the stage sets are arranged.

"We had set problems this year with 11 different sets to build and synchronize, so 12 people could handle them," Jim Hook, set designer, said. Jim supervises the construction and arrangement of the seven solid sets and four curtain drops.

All of the sets have been built and are being painted by pink, green and blue paint by the Junior Theatre members.

Lighting for the show will be colorful and specific, with spotlights rather than footlights and borders.

In the two weeks before the musical, members of the cast and chorus will make television appearances in Milwaukee and Green Bay and broadcast portions of the show over local radio stations.

Hard work, financial disappointments and satisfying experiences have characterized the five Junior Theatre productions. "Gramercy Ghost" was the first play presented by the group in 1954. The staff was entirely green to the quirks of theatrical productions. The show was a moderate success, so the young people decided to give music-loving Oshkosh a musical production in 1955.

Past Musicals

A popularized version of "Sweethearts" was chosen, and to insure success several adults were included in the cast, although production staff members were students. The following year the group decided to forbid adult participation in Junior Theatre, drew up a new constitution, partly because no one could find a copy of the old one, and because there were out-dated rules. The new constitution offers membership to "anyone entering his sophomore year in high school and through age 23."

Again this summer Fox Valley residents will have an opportunity to see the worthwhile summer project of Oshkosh teenagers.

Plan Ahead To Enjoy Longer Life

Chances of living 20 years beyond retiring age challenges us to do some planning for our older years, according to Viola Hunt, family life specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Just having 20 extra years to live may be no advantage if we don't enjoy them.

In your 30s and 40s isn't too early to start planning to be sure you'll have your finances ready to support you for these extra years.

Give some thought to where you'll live after retirement. Perhaps the heavy expense of building or buying a home may be easier to carry while you're still earning from your job.

You can plan ahead for a retirement salary, but this doesn't guarantee you'll be ready with new interests, some developed skills and plans to be occupied and useful that will make your long life a happy one.

You'll have no trouble developing new interests if you keep doing it through the years. Those who never stop learning never lose the ability to do so, Miss Hunt says.

That's why developing a whole new career after retirement is no longer a rarity. If you widen your interests, through your middle years, you'll find you have something to retire to and may be less apt to cling to your job or business.

At 40 you may say, "I'll cross that bridge when I come to it." But taking time out to face the problems of where you'll live, what your income will be and how you'll find new interests is a good step in preparing yourself, Miss Hunt says.

Edgewater Club To Hold Dance

Household Slaves Exaggerate Work

Are you a slave to your home? Do you pass up weekends, dinner parties and entertaining your friends because there is always something to be done around the house?

If so, take a second look — there always will be work around a house, and giving up fun and friendships won't solve the problem.

Your reaction to these five common situations will show whether or not your home is getting the best of you:

Your guests leave at a late hour, and you are so tired you can't hold your head up. But there the dishes loom menacingly in the kitchen, and you can't go to bed until the kitchen is cleaned up.

Stack dishes and pots neatly in the sink (or the oven) and pretend they're in a dishwasher, if you don't have one. In lieu of a slipcover for the sink, cover the whole array with a couple of clean dish towels. Go to bed and relax.

In the morning you'll be in better shape to face the situation, and the job may be done better and in much less time.

You feel the need for company, but the house is in such a disheveled state that you are embarrassed to invite your friends. If you attempt to clean it thoroughly you know you'll be too tired to cook the dinner. Well size up the problem. How much of the mess is paraphernalia that is just misplaced?

"Take a pillow case or laundry bag and load it with all the oddments. Take all the old magazines and newspapers, stack them up and put them in the closet. (Some people stack them under the bed.) After that you may not have much more to do than vacuuming, dusting, wiping mirrors and ash trays. You'll be surprised how easy it is after you remove extraneous stuff that somehow makes a room look tacky. Remove the clutter and live again.

Cookout

You want to have people to dinner, but you've got a backbreaking job in the garden, and you wonder if you will be able to drag yourself around after that.

Use the easy method of entertaining: Plan a cookout. Prepare all the greens in the morning, wrap them in a towel, put them in the refrigerator. Prepare the salad dressing. Dress up the garlic bread, butter the rolls or other bread and wrap it in foil. Pat out the hamburgers or marinate the chicken, and have it set for the fire. Remove corn husks, butter and wrap in foil. Put it in the ice box.

Now you're all set. After your garden chores, take a shower, and relax until the guests arrive. Set the barbecue table, and you'll have nothing to do but entertain the guests, assuming you can persuade the man of the house to take over the outdoor cooking.

Do you give up weekends away from home because the weeds will take over and the grass will be sky-high? If you don't stick around? There are usually small boys around eager to do the job for pin money. They can also take care of those other "excuses" that keep you at home — feeding the dog and cat and watering the lawn.

Do you stay indoors because you fear the sun, and the house is so cool? There are many advantages to being outdoors, and you can be equipped properly with sun glasses, beach umbrella and straw hat, you can enjoy the outdoors without getting sunburned. Better still, find a shady spot, but get out of the rut of sticking close to home. Home is a wonderful place, but you may not appreciate it, if you never have a change of scenery.

Menasha Macs Invade Manitowoc Seeking 3rd League Victory

Gene Gries Slated to Hurl Against Brault Or Bob Lutz; Clippers Haven't Played Yet

Menasha — Hoping to protect their unbeaten record in Fox River Valley Baseball play, the Menasha Macs will journey to Manitowoc for an 8 p.m. Saturday night encounter.

The Macs currently boast a 2-0 record — good enough to tie Little Chute — Kimberly and Freedom for first place. Although the weekend set of contests is the fourth of the second half, Manitowoc still doesn't have a record.

The Clippers were rained out on one occasion, drew a bye another time and last week's game against Kaukauna was called off because of the Klubbers' participation in the district semi-pro tournament at Clintonville.

3-5 in First Round

Manitowoc closed first round play with a 3-5 record. They lost to the Macs 4-3 here on June 14 when Darold Egger batted a bases-empty homer in the 10th inning.

John Stryzowski, who hurled that game for the Clippers is no longer with the club. In his absence, Ron Brault or Bob Lutz is expected to get the starting call.

Brault, former Two Rivers High school star, was named to the league's all-star team. Lutz, a former Mac infielder, is unbeaten in a pair of mound decisions.

Menasha Pitchers

Another ex-Mac, Billy Lutz, has hurled only one game for the Clippers, losing 4-2 to Little Chute — Kimberly in May. He had been expected to divide his talents between Manitowoc and Milwaukee Falk's, but the latter has received greater use of his services.

Deepest Canyons, Highest Mountains Hidden in Ocean

BY LEONARD ENGEL

Aboard Research Vessel Vema — The most inaccessible region on earth is the bottom of the ocean. Submarines have gone as deep as 1,000 feet. The bathyscap — a special vehicle for deepwater diving — has been down to 13,000 feet.

Vast reaches of the ocean are 18,000 feet deep or more. In the Marianas trench west of Guam, British and Soviet research ships have sounded the almost unbelievable depth of 36,000 feet — deep enough to bury Mt. Everest, with a mile and a quarter to spare.

In spite of its inaccessibility, the ocean floor is being made to reveal its secrets. Submarine mountains more massive than any on land; canyons dwarfing the Grand Canyon of the Colorado; plains that stretch for hundreds of miles without a rise of as much as a foot; delicate "brittle star" (a kind of starfish) and other forms of life marvelously adapted to the dark, near-freezing waters and thousands-of-pounds-per-square-inch pressures of the ocean floor.

Oceanographers visit this strange, hidden world with the eyes, ears and hands of science — instruments that can go places and do things impossible to man himself. During the time I was aboard the Columbia university research ship Vema to see how sea researchers work, one or another device for exploring the ocean bottom was constantly in operation.

Vema and three other ocean research craft were trying to find a good drilling site as the first step toward a historic sea-exploration project: the bold Mohole scheme for drilling a hole through the earth's crust beneath the sea.

"We won't know for some months whether a good place for the Mohole has been found," declares Dr. Arthur Maxwell of the office of naval research, co-sponsor, with the National Science Foundation, of the Mohole survey. "By the time the data collected is analyzed, however, no area of the ocean will be better known than the survey area of the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico."

"Ear" for Depths

A key bottom-exploration tool is the echo depth finder, an "ear" that hears the depth of the water. A cousin of the echo devices used by the navy for detecting submarines, the veal when and how the change took place.

During the Mohole survey, Vema averaged a core every other day. Analyzing the core samples will take several months. Tension always mounted aboard the ship when the 3-man coring gang turned on the powerful diesel motor of the winch that pays out the miles-long heavy steel cable carrying the corer.

The corer often comes up badly bent from its jarring encounter with the ocean bottom. Moreover, there is the ever-present possibility of the cable breaking—an accident that at least means loss of the corer and thousands of feet of snarled cable, and can send the deck like a lethal snake.

One evening the corer, with thermograd strapped to it, was started down shortly after supper.

The four-mile journey to the bottom—a process requiring nearly two hours—was completed without incident. To obtain accurate temperature measurements, however, the corer had to be left in the bottom for seven minutes—seven minutes during which the ship drifted, causing more than a thousand feet of additional cable to be paid out.

Corer Damaged

It was an ominous sign. When the ship drifts that much while the corer is in the bottom, the corer pipe is usually bent in the pull-out.

When the corer came up and was brought alongside just before midnight, the pipe had a 45-degree bend close to the core head.

An eerie wee-hour drama ensued.

Knife between his teeth, one of the scientists went over the side to cut free the temperature probes strapped to the corer pipe. Others removed the heavy thermograd unit from the coring gang clambered down to unfasten a coupling holding the sections of corer pipe together, permitting the corer to be brought aboard piece by piece.

The struggle was over a little after 2 a. m. It was all in a night's work.

Despite the crew's exhaustion, another winch was started in a few minutes and the biology dredge started down to wrest more secrets from the ocean floor.

5 Pay Traffic, Violation Fines

Chilton—Five persons were fined in justice court for traffic violations.

Mrs. Karen J. Lenhart, 18, 8014 Desnoyer street, Kaukauna, was assessed $35 for driving too fast for conditions and becoming involved in an accident.

Gerald Rollman, 19, route 3, Chilton, paid $25 for leaving the scene of an accident.

Charles R. Lau, 22, Brillion, paid $10 for speeding. Jerry R. Buchholz, 22, 113 Monroe street, Brillion, was fined $10 for illegal passing and becoming involved in an accident.

Thomas Volkman, 19, 430 Sherry street, Neenah, paid $10 for operating a motor vehicle on the wrong side of the road.

Watch Puffs of Smoke From Exhaust Pipes, Safety Council Says

Chicago — The National Safety council suggests that, when passing, watch the exhaust pipe of the car ahead for smoke puffs.

A lazy puff means the driver has taken his foot from the accelerator. Perhaps he's slowing for a turn.

A sharp gust of smoke may mean the motorist ahead is speeding up so that you will be unable to pass.

Youth Placed On Probation

Chilton — Eugene Zierer, 18, New Holstein, was fined $25 on a charge of petty larceny when he appeared before Leo Kartheiser, justice of the peace. Kartheiser suspended the fine after placing Zierer on six months' probation to the Chilton chief of police.

Zierer was arrested taking items from the Schultz Brothers' store, Chilton.

Steels, Rubbers, Chemicals Among Biggest Gainers

New York —(AP)—Stock market prices generally carved out modest advances early this afternoon. Trading ambled along at a moderate clip. Key issues chalked up gains of fractions to a point or so. Only a smattering of small losers cropped up on the list. Some steels, rubbers, chemicals and selected issues ran up smart gains. Motors and electronics were ragged after bargaining ahead earlier this week. The market opened higher but then fizzled. Prices rallied around mid-day.

Leading steels scored fractional gains. Youngstown Sheet & Tube featured the groups' advance by climbing about two points after the company reported a sharp turn in first half earnings. Most rubbers rallied from a recent decline. Goodyear jumped nearly 2.

A few specialties ran up sparkling advances. Eaton Manufacturing spurred ahead nearly 4 after the company boosted the dividend. Magnavox soared around 3 following news the firm is considering a stock split.

A mixed lineup of motors showed American Motors up nearly 1 and General Motors up about half a point. Studebaker - Packard fell around half a point and Chrysler dipped a shade. Ford was unchanged.

Rails turned mixed. At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was 10 cents higher at $232 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Most prices on the American Stock Exchange pushed higher amid moderate activity.

In lethargic bond dealings. U.S. government issues held unchanged.

Toastmasters Plan Series of Talks Saturday

In the afternoon administrative seminars will be held for area governors and educational seminars will be held for assistant governors. Howland and Gene Haluschak, district educational chairman, will conduct all meetings.

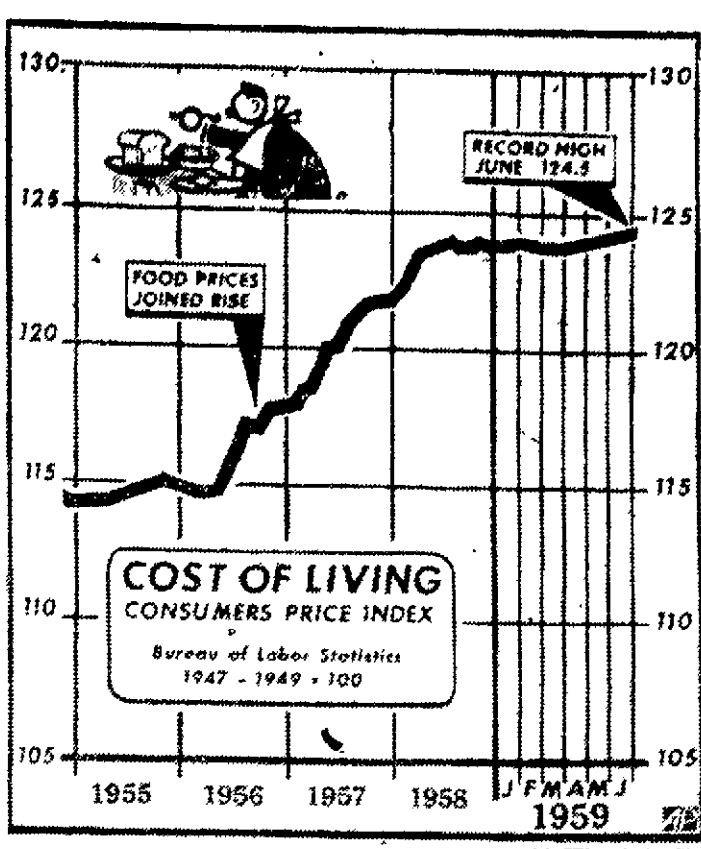

Will Olson, Appleton, is governor of Area 6 of the district, which includes Appleton.

For Second Half Tax Payments

Kaukauna — Persons paying taxes on the 50-50 plan this year have until Friday, July 31, to pay the second half of their taxes at the office of the Outagamie county treasurer at the courthouse, according to Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer.

Payments may be mailed to the county treasurer but cannot be accepted locally, according to Miss Wolf. Each year some taxpayers mistakenly send checks to the city or stop at her office for second half payment only to find Miss Wolf is not permitted to accept the money, said the treasurer. Payments mailed to the county must be postmarked before midnight of the final day.

New D.A.V. Head Is Installed

The Annual Baby Alumni day festivities for the Kaukauna Community hospital started off calmly enough but a severe thunderstorm in the middle of the afternoon caused hundreds of mothers and youngsters to hurry for shelter in the VFW hall. Pictured is a small part of the crowd huddled into the building, hoping the program could be continued.

To Your Good Health

Itching Eyelids May Result From Allergy, Infection

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could you give me any information about itching eyelids that become swollen and form small cracked places? This happens at different times during the year. —Mrs. P.H."

"Dear Doctor: What an incessant itching in my eyebrows? Scales form above the lids and come off in flakes. This doesn't spread but it has gone on for years. —Mrs. E.M."

These letters come from readers (both women) in different states, both eastern states but hundreds of miles apart.

The first thing we should think of in such cases is allergy. The causes are many, but the commonest are cosmetics: face powder, eye make-up, hair dye.

The next suspect is what we might call environmental irritants: pollen, dust, smog, fumes, detergents, and (not uncommonly) some particular bath soap or shampoo.

Mrs. P.H.'s letter suggests something of the sort because of the way the itching comes and goes. Something we may logically suspect, happens to irritate her eyes, and it is something that she comes in contact with periodically.

Always remember, with allergies, that the most innocent substance may be the guilty one—for you. Individuals who are sensitive to certain foods know that the most healthful foods, such as eggs, wheat, citrus fruit, or indeed almost anything, can be good for most of us but bad for a few individuals.

Possible Causes

Can Mrs. P. H., for example, connect these periods of irritation with any particular weather, or season? Certain plants might possibly be guilty. Or perhaps the trouble starts each time after she has been to a beauty parlor which uses some soap, or hair treatment that happens to bother her.

Does she visit someone, or have a visit from someone with, perhaps, a pet animal? Animal danders sometimes are guilty.

If she is observant and lucky, she may soon identify the troublesome substance. If not, she may want to consult an allergist who can test her sensitivity to various substances.

Mrs. E.M.'s case suggests something else because of the long duration of trouble. One suspects a chronic infection, or a dermatitis (skin condition) affected the lids.

She happens to be from the east central part of the country, and the possibility of trachoma must be considered. It is prevalent in certain European, Asiatic and Mediterranean countries, and is not unknown in some parts of the U. S. It can, I warn you, be stubborn and resistant to treatment, and it is contagious.

There are other types of chronic inflammation, too, and perhaps much easier to treat than trachoma. And we should add, likewise, that deficient diet or lack of vitamins can cause granulation and followed by three teams with 4-3 records. Games this week saw WHBY win over Kaukauna Rec 13-7, Ploetz down Egan's 16-6, KDR down Doering's 11-8, Kaukauna Rec top Doering's 10-8, KRD beat Egan's 14-7 and Ploetz edge WHBY 17-10.

Haas leads National competition in junior hardball with an 8-1 mark followed by Gustman's with 6-3. Johnson downed Kaukauna 22-3 and Gustman topped Haas 5-4 this week.

In Junior softball, State League, Welhouse leads with a 7-3 mark while Niesen has a 5-5 mark. Mike Gondek and Dave Schwalenberg are the leading hitters with .502 marks. In Junior softball, County League, Lappen's have a 9-1 record and Andrew's a 7-3 mark. Tom Heistand is hitting .611 and Dick Hurst, .606. Gary Weigman is top pitcher with a 5-0 mark. ## Legion Corps to Sell Kits for National Meeting

Little Chute — Mothers of members of the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps discussed four events in which the unit will be competing within the next six weeks and approved a first aid kit sale to help the all girl unit finance a trip to the national convention of the Legion at Minneapolis, Aug. 23 through 25.

The girls will begin a house to house sale throughout the village. The unit recently finished fourth in competition at the state convention and with criticisms from judges, Director Clarence Peeters and the unit will hold special rehearsals in an attempt to work out minor problems.

Other events in which the group will participate are parades at Mount Calvary on Sunday, at Brillion Aug. 8 and at Berlin Aug. 30.

Building Permit for Home Addition Issued

Kaukauna — A building permit to construct a 10 by 22-foot addition to a home at an estimated cost of $250 was issued to Charles Bodde, 137 Garfield street, by Lothar Kemp, building inspector.

irritation of the eyelids. This is not too unusual among older folk who may be careless about following a well-balanced diet. So, you see, there are plenty of possible causes. Except that finding out a particular allergy may require a lot of observation, it should not be too difficult to pin down the type of trouble, and after that the treatment presents no great problem.

Losing Voice

"Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate a few words about gradually losing one's voice. I am 64 and getting quite concerned. M.B."

I can't go into detail on the various causes of this in limited space but I do say solemnly: gradual loss of the voice is nothing to view lightly. Some change is taking place in your vocal cords, and you should see a throat specialist promptly.

Bleaching Hair

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any way of bleaching hair on the upper lip?—A.S."

Yes, but that's a job for a beauty parlor, not for me. However, I've suggested this very thing from time to time as a good solution for excess hair. Bleached, it seems to disappear.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I am 56 and became completely disabled in August, 1958. I have been self employed for 20 years. My self-employment income was first covered by the social security act beginning with the year 1955. I have paid the social security tax every year since then. Since I have been working all the past 10 years and in the three years just before I became disabled, do I qualify benefits?

A. No. Although you worked the entire 10 years, you were not working in a business covered by the social security act all that time. You worked only four years out of 10 years in work covered by the act. The 1958 amendments did not change the requirement of five years of work covered by the social security act in the 10 years just before your disability began. You need one more year of covered work to meet the requirements.

Q. I am 45. In 1951 I was completely disabled by an accident. I had worked in employment covered by the social security act from 1940 until I became self employed in 1947. I did not inquire at the social security office about a disability freeze because I read that a disabled person must have been working in employment covered by the social security act in the three years just before he became disabled. Everyone tells me now I cannot freeze my social security because I did not file an application before July, 1958. Did recent changes in the law affect my opportunities for a freeze?

A. Yes. You no longer have to meet the requirement of one and one-half years covered work in the three years just before your disablement. Also under the recent changes you can establish a disability as far back as October, 1941. You should contact your social security office as soon as possible if you are still too disabled to work.

Q. I qualified for disability benefits under the recent change in the social security law; what is the first month for which payment can be made?

A. The earliest month for which disability benefits can be paid under the new law is September, 1958.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm street, Appleton.

Way Opened to Pornography In U. S. Mails

Judge's Decision Deprives Post Office Department of Power

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Is the way being opened to widespread distribution of pornographic or obscene books and pictures in America? Judge Frederick vanPelt's decision just rendered in the U. S. district court in New York, if sustained by a higher court, would seem to deprive the post office department of all of its power to keep filthy "literature" out of the mails.

Judge Bryan may not have intended such a result, and his written opinion is couched in phrases of earnestness and sincerity. But he has nevertheless opened up a Pandora's box of troubles for the post office department, whose officials have promptly decided to carry the matter to the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Bryan's argument is that morals have changed and people nowadays accept dirty books as "best sellers." From this, he reasons that no matter how offensive even to a substantial segment of the community, there is no right to bar such books because, after all, people do buy them and read them.

Judged as Whole

The court opinion says that the material in a book "is not to be judged by excerpts or individual passages but must be judged as a whole," and adds that there has been "general acceptance of the book throughout the country and nothing was shown to the contrary." But Judge Bryan didn't reveal whether the critics had read the expurgated or unexpurgated version of the novel in question.

The expurgated edition has been circulated for nearly 30 years. Certainly ever since the objectionable passages were eliminated, there was no way of judging what would have been said of the book by the critics if they had reviewed the complete edition. Judge Bryan, in discussing the unexpurgated edition, which alone has been banned from the mails, says:

Relevant to Plot

"Some passages and this language understandably will shock the sensitive minded. Be that as it may, these passages are relevant to the plot and to the development of the characters and of their lives. The language which shocks, except in a rare instance or two, is not inconsistent with character, situation or theme."

"The tests of obscenity are not whether the book or passages from it are in bad taste or shock or offend the sensibilities of an individual, or even of a substantial segment of the community. . . . The statute does not purport to regulate the morals portrayed or the ideas expressed in a novel, whether or not they are contrary to the accepted moral code, nor could it constitutionally do so."

This is a sweeping declaration which would seem to remove all obstacles to the wide distribution of pornographic books. Judge Bryan seems to think that the acquiescence of the public in the sale of dirty books in the past indicates that people do not object. He writes:

In All Expression

"Much of what is now accepted would have shocked the community to the core a generation ago. Today such things are generally tolerated whether we approve or not."

But do the American people approve of dirty books, and if there is a trend of that kind in the community, could it mean that the authorities may have been remiss in failing heretofore to suppress such works? Or does it mean that, despite the large attendance at churches in America, the moral standings of the people of a generation ago are considered outmoded today?

If this doctrine is correct, then it will be argued that the Ten Commandments can be brushed aside also as "old-fashioned."

Depends on Publisher

Judge Bryan seems to think that if a "reputable publisher" issues a book, it becomes "literary" and not "obscene." He says:

"A work of literature published and distributed through normal channels by a reputable publisher stands on quite a different footing from hard core pornography furtively sold for the purpose of profiting by the titillation of the dirty-minded."

But who is to determine whether a publisher's motive in circulating a sex novel is pure and untainted by any idea of "profiting by the titillation of the dirty-minded"? The new federal court ruling plainly says the postmaster general has no such right and hints that maybe there is no such right to anybody else in government under the first amendment to the constitution.

So it does look as if the sky is the limit now on the sale and distribution through the mails of pornographic books and pictures. Since the court says so, this is today the "law of the land" until reversed either by a higher court or by a constitutional amendment.
